Letter from "Honest Jack Burnett."

[From the Jacksonville Sentinel.]

In looking over our list of "unanswered letters," a few days since, we came across the following from Hon. A. J. Burnett, which will undoubtedly interest our readers, as he has attained a prominence in politics and literature which of itself and without regard to the intrinsic excellence and beauty of his productions, invest them with passing interest. In doing so we obey what we presume to have been his wish in sending the communication to us, and sincerely ask his pardon for our long but unintentional delay. Here it is literatim et verbatim, just as it fell from the great statesman's pen.

KLAMATH, Feb. 4, 1871.

MR. E. B. WATSON:

Sir:—I see in the Sentinel, of the 21st inst. that you announce, "Jack Burnett on the Rampage ect, against you & Jas. D. Fay—Sir, your author shurley was much in want of something to say abodt J. B.—"Sir I—will say, this much, please keep up the fire, at long range your missels are ineffectial, and as yet have not made any impression, on my Democratic opinion's "of eather you or your late allies, "In conclusion allow me to say, that I intend not opening my Battroy's until May 1872, Then I propose to reduce your political works, by facts and Tactlots, Though my deare sir, please give yourselve, no uneasiness for I do not propose to settle political matters in the way you intimated, I hope you will continue the war—as I am gaining dailey on your harmless enundoes—

With much personal
Respect. believe me
Frind Watson
Respectfuley, &c
ANDREW J. BURNETT

"How high is that?"

"Jack," we are relieved of many disagreeable apprehensions in being assured that you meditate no personal violence, but we are not so well satisfied about your "tactiets." You won't "salt" us, will you? "Salt" is a terrible "reducer," and with your record before us, we have little faith in the strength of any "political works" to withstand it. In regard to firing at you "at long-rainge," we only follow the illustrious "tactiets" employed by you in going after the swamp land. It is rumored that your swamp land "rainge" lies somewhere east of the Rocky Mountains, but the swamp land itself, that you are after, lies in Link River valley. Now, friend Burnett, as you do not propose active hostilities until May, 1872, let us bury the hatchet for the present, and not "climb any hills until we get to them."

Permanent Stock.

It appears that the Confederate cotton loan, redeemable in gold by the Jeff Davis Government, is still bought and sold on the London Stock Exchange. There is said to be £2,435,-700 of it in the London market which cost the subscribers about ninety per cent. of its nominal value. One Britisher, known as Sir Henry De Houghton, has $380,000, which costs him nearly par. A cotempory says:

When we were struggling to put down the rebellion a few years since, not only the British Government was doing whatever she could insidiously to injure us on the seas and to aid the rebellion, but the British aristocracy in the main was in sympathy with its government, were but too happy at the prospect of an overturn of our Republic, and took the opportunity of investing largely in Confederate bonds. We trust that they have plenty of the stock left. It will be a gentle reminder to them during life to be more careful how they attempt to foster the interests of slavery, stay the progress of free government and encourage a causeless rebellion. It is estimated that the holders of these bonds entertain a faint hope that our Government at some future day may assume the payment of the scrip. If this idea affords any comfort to them, the prospect is that they will be "happy and content" a long time.

The French Problem.

There are some who now advise the French to sit down sullenly and allow Germany to work out the problem before her, in any way she thinks fit. They may say, "She has got the provinces she wants, let her keep them, but their cession will be formally ratified by no act of ours. While the invador remains on our soil we shall continue to refuse to convene a National Assembly, whose sittings would be held under the muzzles of Prussian cannon. Our conquerors want a huge indemnity; the longer they stay the more difficulty they will have in raising it. Let them go on making forced requisitions here and there, so long as they find them repay the cost of collection. Let them continue to spread famine and pestilence as they have already scattered death and ruin, till civilization cries shame, and in very weariness Germany recalls her hosts, and contents herself with occupying what she intends permanently to keep." Such a resolution might be deplorable enough, but no one can say that it is impossible.

One would think getting married to be something which a gentleman would like to do as quietly and privately as possible; but the new taste is to have all the particulars of esponsal blazoned in the newspapers, with a full inventory of the bride's silks and satins, laces and ribbons and haberdashery generally. Here is an account of a wedding in Wyandotte, Mich., upon the occasion of which the reporter indulges in the following noble, original, philosophical and moral reflections: "It was evident that the parting with a loved daughter, even though she go to take her allotted place in life, was a sad duty, and yet the happy memories should cluster about it and hallow the day the more it sank away into the dimness of the past"—which we call good. However, the marriage which more especially affects us is that of a swain of 74 years of age to a damsel of 72. This was in Springfield, Ohio. This couple can begin to sing "John Anderson, my Jo, John," at once.

BRAVER THAN SHE KNEW.—One dark night not long ago, a burglar entered a private residence on Sixth avenue. On ascending one flight of stairs he observed a light in a chamber, and while hesitating what to do, a large woman suddenly descended upon him, seized him by the throat, forced him down through the hall, and pushed him into the street before he had time think. "Heroic repulse of a burglar by a woman," was the way the story appeared in the newspapers the next day; but when friends called and congratulated her upon her courage, she exclaimed: "Good gracious? I didn't know it was a burglar! If I had, I should have been frightened half to death. I thought it was my husband come home drunk again, and I was determined he shouldn't stay in the house in that condition. —New York Paper.

Observe the record made by the Democratic members of Congress at the last session:

Denouncing internal taxation, they voted against the bill reducing internal taxes to the amount of $55,090,000.

Condemning the tariff rates, they voted against the measure which reduced tariff duties in the aggregate by $25,000,000.

Objecting to the public debt and its requirements, they voted against an act for honestly reducing the burden of interest, by refunding at a lower rate.

Clamorous for the authority of the Constitution, they deliberately voted that a part of the Constitution had not been legally adopted and possessed no binding force.

By Overland Telegraph.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 2.

Preliminaries of Peace Ratified by the French Assembly.

BORDEAUX, March 1.—In the Assembly today, the Committee of Consultation, which accompanied Thiers to Versailles, made a report unanimously recommending ratification by the Assembly of the preliminaries of peace agreed to and submitted by the President.

Bamberger, Deputy from the Department of Moselle, abjured the Assembly to reject any terms involving the cession of French territory. He strongly denounced Napoleon III.

A moment of agitation arose in the Chamber in an attempt made by M. Conto, formerly Secretary of the Emperor, to speak in justification of the Empire.

The Assembly enthusiastically and unanimously voted by acclamation the resolution offered decreeing the fall of the Empire, and stigmatizing Napoleon as the cause of the misfortunes of France.

The Assembly voted a ratification of the preliminary conditions of peace by 546 ayes against 107 nays.

Affairs in Paris.

PARIS, March 1—night.—The French troops have evacuated the barracks of Louvre and Elysses.

Picard remains in Paris.

The Ambassadors of England, Austria, and Prussia return immediately to their legation.

German Troops Entering Paris.

PARIS, March 1.—The head of the column of the Eleventh corps, under Gen. Von Bose is entering Pont du Jour and Porte Neuilly, and is moving toward Arc de Triomphe. No hostile movement of the populace has yet been made. Fears of a collision are diminishing.

PARIS, March 1—Noon.—Since Vinoy's proclamation, the best part of the National Guard have been active in perfecting barricades as safe guards against the approach of armed crowds on the line marked out by the Germans. At an early hour in the morning preparations were complete. The streets presented a singular appearance from the absence of people, which were almost deserted on the line of march, except by strong bodies of regular French troops, who occupied the triangle during the night with the intention of falling back on the advance of the Prussians, and taking a position commanding the approaches to the line. At the appointed hour (ten o'clock), the first representative of the corps of the victorious army entered within the enciente, under the eye of his Imperial Majesty, in accordance with the programme. The Eleventh Corps, numbering 30,000, with 96 pieces of field artillery and the usual proportion of cavalry, under the command of General Von Bose, advanced in two columns, one at Pont Neuilly and another at Pont du Jour. The former advanced at a rapid pace up the Avenue Grande Arme directly for Arc de Triomphe. The French troops vacated the streets as the Germans approached. The other column entering Pont du Jour below Anteuil, commenced to march along the Quay on the north side of the Seine directly for Place de la Concorde, which had been fixed upon as the place of rendezvous by the two columns. As the troops proceeded along the line the artillery took positions from Pont de Neuilly to Place de la Concorde, and from Pont du Jour to the same point, as a precautionary measure. At 9 A. M. the head of the Prussian advance was rounding Arc Triomphe. To the surprise of the few present both men and women hurried away in tears, and only boys and a few workmen were left. Not the slightest attempt was made at disturbance. The conduct of the people was admirable.

At a quarter to nine the staff arrived, with General Von Kalicke in front, followed by fifty officers of all arms and in all sorts of uniforms. They did not stop, but rode down to Champs Elysees to the house of Queen Christina, where their headquarters were established. Behind the staff came a battalion of the 88th, with drums and fifes. Then came the troops of the Blue Dragoons, and after these marched a detachment of Bavarians, composed of infantry and cavalry, followed by 200 men of every variety of the Prussian line. A corps consisting of about a dozen of ficers of artillery, at the head of a little column which was closed by some thirty red horses, and containing altogether probably 2,000 men, brought up the rear. By a quarter past nine the whole body had passed Arc de Triomphe and was descending Champs Elysees. At a quarter past ten the patrol Hussars came back from Arc de Triomphe to Pont Neuilly. At the same moment half a dozen infantry soldiers turned the corner of Avenue Cloud and posted a sentry on the Place near Avenue de l'Imperatrice, then entered the Rue de Presbourg and began billeting in houses surrounding Place l'Etole, whose doors all open on that street. At this time the crowd began to increase in the rear of the Palais de Industrie. The troops were halted at Pont du Jour. Only a few dragoons had entered up to ten o'clock. The advance guard had been pushed forward—Bois de Boulogne was entirely deserted. Small parties of cavalry passed occasionally along the lake. Troops were passing in small numbers from 8 o'clock through Bois de Boulogne and marching toward Pont Neuilly. Three had crossed the Seine on pontoon bridges laid last night near Pont du Jour. The inhabitants of Bois de Boulogne are perfectly good humored.

WASHINGTON CITY.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Conference report on the Indian appropriation bill has been agreed to in both Houses. The Senate army appropriation bill passed.

The public debt statement of bonds issued to the Pacific Railroad Company, payable in lawful money, shows total as follows: Outstanding, $64,618,832; interest incurred and not yet paid, $646,188, interest paid by the United States, $10,773,910; interest repaid by the transportation of mails, $2,460,816; balance of interest paid by the United States, $8,293,091.

OREGON DONATION LAW.—On the 11th February Senator Williams moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of a bill to extend the benefits of the Oregon donation law of 1850 to certain persons. The bill was considered and passed. Following are it leading provisions:

It declares all persons who, at the time of settlement, possessed the qualifications prescribed in the fourth and fifth sections of an act to create the office of surveyor general of public lands in Oregon, and to provide for the survey and to make donations to settlers of said public lands, approved September 27, 1850, and who made bona fide settlement upon the lands claimed by the Puget Sound Agricultural Company, in Washington Territory, within the time limited for settlement by that act and the amendments thereto, to be entitled to all the privileges and benefits of that act and amendments. The rights and privileges of heirs and assigns under the donation law and the amendments thereto are also extended to the heirs and assigns of the settlers named in this act.

The annual report of the New York postoffice for 1870 shows some curious facts. The whole number of letters sent to foreign countries was 6,164,435, upon which the postage amounted to $508,543 03. The preponderance of these over the number received is striking. Of the latter there was only 5,715,-714, postage, $522,788 06. In both lists Great Britain, of course, comes first. Then the North German Union, then Switzerland, then France, then Belgium. Allowing a quarter of an ounce to each letter, about 93 tons of foreign mail matter have been received and distributed at the New York office. The increase during the year in the foreign mail has been nearly seventy-five per cent. The most marked increase is in the Italian mail, by reason of the arrangement made with the British Postoffice, whereby letters for India, China and Japan are sent direct to Brindisi. The growth of the business is surprising and gratifying; but it is not so gratifying to reflect that the profits from its transmission all go to the marine of a rival power.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

From Versailles.

VERSAILLES, March 1.—The German Emperor and Empress have just returned from Long Champs. They inspected the 6th and 11th Prussian and 1st Bavarian corps, 30,000 strong. The advance guard at 8 A. M. entered without any disturbance.

LONDON, March 1.—There was much agitation in several quarters of Paris last night. Barricades at the northern and eastern faubourgs, it is stated, were the only guarantees lest the Germans should overstep their assigned limits. The Governor of Paris said he could only rely upon a certain number of Nationals and linesmen, and interposed them between the Germans and the populace.

The Opinion says the meeting of the German Parliament is postponed until March 20th.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Conference Committee on the Southern Pacific Railroad bill has compromised, and will report in favor of the main trunk with a branch from Marshall, Texas, to New Orleans via Baton Rouge, and a branch on the Southern Pacific Railroad of California from the 25th parallel to connect with the Washington trunk on Colorado river near the 32d parallel.

Three members of the House are equally confident of being Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee in the next Congress. The increased strength of the Democrats in the House will entitle them to three members. Six of the present members of the committee are elected to the incoming Congress, namely: Hooper, Massachusetts; Maynard, Tennessee; Kelly, Pennsylvania; Brooks, New York; Blair, Michigan, and Marshall, Illinois. It is not probable that all these members will be combined upon the committee. Two or three Republicans may be given chairmanships of other committees. Blaine has given no intimation of his intentions respecting the formation of any committee, and nothing will be known until they are announced.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—In discussing the organization of the committees of the new House the suggestion has been made and approvingly canvassed among the older members for the appointment of a committee to revise bills before final action, so as to prevent the recurrence of blunders such as that made last session when, in amending the laws relating to the Commissioner of Patents and his office, it was claimed that the Department of the Interior was abolished.

EASTERN STATES.

Aid for France.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Subscriptions among the French in aid of France, are continued with renewed vigor in all parts of the country. An order is received to fit out the storeship Relief for special service connected with the relief of the suffering peasantry of France. She will be ready for sea in about four weeks.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—The Golden Chariot took out $90,000 for February, which added to previous surplus would justify a dividend of $10 per share.

The Germans decided to invite Gov. Haight and other city officers to participate in their grand peace celebration at Platt's Hall and the City Gardens, but the invitations are not yet accepted. The day for the celebration is not yet fixed.

The banquet of St. Patrick's Day will be held at the Occidental Hotel.

The sale of the old White House property near the old Mission race track, belonging to the estate of the late Robert Beatty, realized $67 per front foot on Mission street and $35 on Battery street, or $2,110 to $875 for lots of 25 by 125 feet each. The property is over three miles from the City Hall.

Dr. David Walker, who accompanied Captain Hall in his Arctic exploring expedition, goes east to-day to report to Washington.

The U. S. schooner Wm Marcy sailed for Magdalen Bay to-day.

The sailing of the steamer Sacramento, for Panama, is postponed until Saturday at 3 P. M. She has not yet arrived from Panama, being a little overdue.

The U. S. pensioners, including wounded veterans of the army and navy, their widows and orphans, will receive their pensions in this city on Saturday next, both classes receiving pay the same day.

Weather continues dry and clear. No indications of rain. Wind light and variable.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

GRASS VALLEY, March 2.—A man named Clark, from Stockton, was robbed last night of his pantaloons and some money.

A citizens' committee is investigating the lottery preparatory to the drawing. Probably the drawing will not take place for a week.

SAN DIEGO, March 2.—Capt. Knapp, U. S. tidal wave observer at San Diego Bay, gives the total rainfall of this season, up to March 1st, as 3.94 100 inches.

At Julian City the late rain storm raged three days. The roads were almost entirely destroyed. In consequence of the impossibility of getting quartz to the mills, mining operations will be suspended until the roads can be repaired.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, March 2.—Following is the summary of operations of the Branch Mint at Carson City for February. Deposits, 129,158 ounces; value, $263,410. Coinage—eagles, $90,000; quarter dollars, $872; dimes, $640. Value of bars melted and assayed, $234,133.

Notwithstanding the powerful fleet at the command of France during the war, not a single Prussian man of-war was captured; whereas the Prussians captured four French gunboats on the inland rivers.

The measure of the success of the German soldiers over the French in the field is being repeated in the cities of Germany by the young French officers, prisoners of war, over the German women. In the case of the feminine element the defeated are the victors.

A French peasant of Fontenoy-les-Lenores, for an unsuccessful attempt to poison two Prussian officers by mixing verdigris with their food, has been sent to Halle, Germany, to serve a term of twelve years' imprisonment.

As might have been expected, England is reaping the lion's share of benefit derivable from the Suez Canal. During the month of November, out of thirty-six steamers and six sailing vessels which passed through the canal, all the sailing craft and twenty-four of the steamers were English.

OREGON.

There is little or no snow in Link river valley (Klamath Lake country) this winter.

The Daily Mercury has started up again at Salem. Its Democracy is almost as intense as that of the Herald.

On Monday last McMinnville exulted in the arrival of a lot of goods shipped direct from New York. 'Twas the first event of the sort in the history of the town.

The editor of the Bedrock Democrat modestly speaks of his own "easy and chaste style as a writer, and excruciating politeness and suavity as a gentleman." He keeps his name standing at the head of his paper. It would be unpardonable in us to omit to state that that name is M. H. Abbott.

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 3, 1871.

A Flurry Subsiding.

The free trade flurry that was at its height in many parts of the country a few months ago, has nearly subsided. Very little is now heard of it. It has died out because the ideas that produced it were generally thought to be impracticable, especially at a time when we had so large a public debt, and the requirements of the Government, as to revenue, are necessarily so great.

Self preservation is the primal instinct of national as it is of individual life. The relations of society are necessarily so intimate and numerous that the individual must be dependent; but the relations of a people or a nation are not intimate or numerous, and the nation should be independent. It should be able in and of itself to stand against foreign enmity, and to protect its own name and flag wherever they may be borne. It should ... in the grander times of peace to de... the latent riches of its soil, to produce ... labor of its people, and to take the ... are that by no policy or device that ... become dependent upon and unnecessarily tributary to the industry, trade and commerce of an alien State.

The real power of England to-day is in her manufacturing abilities. For nearly five hundred years she has been producing and developing the skilled labor of her people, till to-day she commands for very many products the first place in the world. This is owing to the extraordinary care which the English government has always taken to ... intrusion of foreign manufacturers into her home market in competition with her own productions—defending by stringent laws and inevitable punishment what she deemed an offence against her own industry and wealth. But it is chiefly to the ... vigilant carefulness of the masters of English trade in maintaining her historic ... that she owes her present superiority. There is a common bond of sympathy and unity among them, to which they are always loyal and natives, in national benefit. Whatever will aid English manufacture, as it is English, they spend time and money for, with great foresight, seeing that their prosperity is ... a part of the national prosperity, and that whatever touches the one hurts or helps the other. She adhered strenuously to protective principles and framed her laws so as to prevent all competition, till she was strong enough to contend against the manufacturing industry of the world. This is the lesson that Great Britain gives us on this subject, and if heeded it may be a most valuable one.

The Onion.

The Agricultural Report for 1870 contains a useful article on the culture of the onion. The perfection to which the onion grows here and the uniform demand for them in the market, makes their production one of the most profitable of the specialties of agriculture.

Soils are scarcely ever rich enough, naturally for the onion. But it is well known that there are considerable tracts of land in this section of country of sufficient natural fertility to produce great crops of onions, year after year. Such, especially are our so-called "beaver-dam lands" which once were neglected, but which are now known to be the most valuable we have.

An analysis of the onion and experience in its production shows that the soil best adapted to the growth of it must contain not only carbon, oxygen and nitrogen, but also large quantities of potash, lime and phosphates. It is in these latter elements that our soil seems to be wanting, ... we have no doubt that even better results than any yet attained in the cultivation of the onion here could be secured by supplying these materials in moderate quantities. We quote the following from an article in the Agricultural Report:

Wood ashes contain great quantities of lime and potash, which enter largely into the onion, and, on this account, and because they help to decompose organic substances in the earth and to liberate carbonic acid, are excellent manures. Bones contain about fifty per cent. of phosphate of lime and forty three per cent of animal matter, which abounds in nitrogen, and when ground to a fine powder makes a powerful fertilizer for the onion. Seaweed also contains phosphates in considerable quantity and makes an excellent fertilizer where applied in a decomposed state or after having been burned to ashes. Horse manure contains more nitrogen and phosphates than cow manure and is regarded by many growers as better for the onion, but, unless it is kept from heating by keeping it cool or wet, or by mixing it with soil or cow manure, the nitrogen is expelled in the form of ammonia, and it becomes almost worthless. Cow manure contains all the ... necessary for the growth of the onion, and good crops can be raised from this mixture alone, but the earthy portions are so small in quantity that an extra crop cannot be grown in common or primitive soils without the addition of some other manure, as wood ashes, guano, bone dust, etc which form so large a part of the onion. Hog manure ranks next to night soil in the amount of nitrogen and phosphates which it contains and is consequently much superior to cow or horse manure for plants which are large feeders like the onions. The manure used in the cultivation of the onion should always be thoroughly decomposed. Green manures are not at all adapted to its nature. They do not act quick enough.

Those who have tried the cultivation of the onion in Oregon taking care to select the richest lands or to fertilize their lands to the highest limit of productiveness,—and no other method with the onion will pay,—have found the crop uniformly a profitable one. The "beaver dam lands," before referred to, are esteemed very valuable, chiefly on account of their adaptability to the growth of the onion.

In an article on the Joint High Commission the Washington Chronicle says: "There is a strong feeling among the public men of both parties that ... results must flow from the enterprise so happily begun, and universal congratulation over the prospect of an amicable adjustment. The members of the Commission are gentlemen of distinguished character and ability, and both nations may feel entirely at ease in entrusting to them all questions at issue. Under the circumstances, then, we are encouraged to take a hopeful view of the future."

The speech of Dr. Helmcken of the British Columbia Legislature on the San Juan question, to which we referred a few days ago, has been published in pamphlet form. It is claimed as the best exposition of the question from a British standpoint which has yet been made; yet it virtually concedes our right to San Juan Island, by admitting that the channel which we claim as the boundary is really the main one. This is a fact which may as well be conceded, since no one can successfully dispute it.

One of our Democratic papers says that, even if the Oregon State Printer "may have possibly swindled a little," the act is quite pardonable, because a Printer is alleged to have swindled largely in Illinois. Is this intended as a compliment to the proprietor of the "organ?"

A Fight against Haight.

An indication of the feeling among a considerable class of California Democrats against Gov. Haight, who is seeking a re-nomination, may be seen in the following from the Downieville Democrat. That paper, after declaring that "no time-server and training trickster can arouse and call into active exercise the dormant energies of the masses, except to encompass his own defeat," says:

The nomination of Haight upon any kind of a platform will insure defeat, and his nomination as the representative of an anti-subsidy hobby, upon which he is inconsistent himself, would be a formal admission that ours is a mere opposition party without principles—a revolted camp of political guerrillas, ready to serve under any banner that signals plunder. Will Democrats permit themselves to occupy this ignominious position? We believe not. As for ourself, we hesitate not to declare, for one, that we will not submit to such infamous dictation. Under no circumstances will we sustain a man who is neither a Democrat nor an honest Republican—a man who never breathed an unselfish thought nor performed an unselfish act in his life—a man who is everything for a cowardly personal policy, and nothing for principle.

The editor of the Democrat is one of those who were staunch and true "in the dark days," and he appeals to the ultra wing in the following strain:

The nomination of Haight would be an insult to the element of the Democratic party that constitutes its real strength in this State. The element to which we refer maintained their organization intact in times of persecution and insult, while he was trying to crush them, and with them the last vestige of the principles which he now professes to revere so much, and whose especial champion he assumes to be. These men supported him at the last election under protest, as is well known, but that they will vote for him again, after the repeated insults heaped upon them by his organs, is expecting too much of human nature. They do not seek to control the Democratic organization nor monopolize the offices at its disposal, but they have feelings as men and Democrats that should and must be respected. To retain their support is quite as important as it is to gain the votes of those who are not particularly devoted to the party.

RETRIBUTION.—The Cologne Zeitung, which is the great German newspaper of Rhenish Prussia, relates that, in his late visit to Vienna, Thiers stopped at the same hotel which at that time was lodging and feeding Ranke, the eminent German historian: and that these two meeting at the common table of the guests, had this conversation: Thiers to Ranke—"Against whom does Germany in fact fight at this moment?" Ranke to Thiers—"Against Louis XIV." Thiers remained silent. Remarking on this interview, the New York Evening Post has this paragraph, which we respectfully commend to the attention of all those of our readers who could not comprehend where an American journal found good reasons for taking side with Germany in the war which is just now ended:

What reply could he make? The spirit of "Le Grand Monarch" has been the spirit of France, under all forms of government, for two centuries. It has made her power a terror and a menace to her neighbors. Germany now undertakes to break that spirit, and to deprive it of the means of disturbing Europe and checking civilization. The task is enormous, but is it not magnificently undertaken? And if Germany in all sincerity performs it, and destroys the power of that passion for "glory," which has so long been the frenzy of France, to trouble the nations hereafter, and then honestly, and without yielding to a like passion, returns to her own peaceful work and growth, will she not present a fine picture to the world?

Military Posts.

The Boise Democrat makes the following extract from a letter written from Washington city from Father Mesplie, February 9:

It is now decided by the War Department to abandon Fort Boise and send the troops either to Walla Walla or Vancouver, on account of the Northern Pacific railroad. Walla Walla is to be made a great central post of seven companies, from which all military matters for the upper country will be transacted. Gen. Sherman will do all he can for the people of Idaho, for whose welfare he takes an earnest interest. Mr. Shafer requests me to write to Gov. Curtis and have the people of Idaho immediately memorialize Congress to have Fort Boise remain as a military post. As this matter relates to the whole Territory, I hope the people will not delay in circulating and signing petitions to that effect, and forwarding the same to Col. S. A. Merritt, who will be our delegate by the time they reach here. Economy is the method of the day with the Government, and if the people wish to retain the military post of Fort Boise, they must set forth their reasons for it, and act promptly in the matter. Col. Sinclair will not return to Idaho, but will remain East, where he has been assigned a much better position than he had out there. I leave to-night for St. Louis, but will return to Washington in about ten days.

Neither of the Jacksonville papers received yesterday contains a word in regard to the scandalous matter alleged by the Herald's correspondent against James D. Fay. Those papers are dated February 25th, and the letters to the Herald were dated a week earlier. The shooting affair took place on the 25th, but subsequent to the publication of the newspapers of that date. The whole scandalous and almost tragical transaction is still involved in mystery, so far as any one here can judge of it, and we wait for further information before commenting upon it. We may say, however, that if there was really such a state of feeling at Jacksonville about it as the Herald's correspondent alleged, it is passing strange that neither of the papers of that town, for two successive issues after the development of the affair, have had one syllable to say in regard to it.

But one Democratic paper in the United States, so far as heard from, favors the acquisition of San Domingo. That Democratic paper is the Bedrock Democrat, published at Baker City, Oregon.

THE TERRITORIES.

Walla Walla wants to borrow $5,000 to buy a steam fire engine.

A public meeting was held at Bellingham Bay a few days ago, and the land owners resolved to donate land to the N. P. R. R. Co., on condition of obtaining the terminus.

The farmers in Boise valley, Idaho, make fences by driving stakes in the ground and weaving in long willows, the end of which is thrust in the soil. The willows grow and the fence soon becomes impervious.

Mr. "Lo" has reached Kalama. He is looking around that promising town in his usual listless way. A correspondent who saw him a few days ago says he was dressed in a dilapidated pair of black pants, an ancient blue woolen shirt, wrong side before, the sleeves to the elbow being absent, a very dubious pair of shoes, and a stovepipe hat that looked as though it might have come in the first ship that Astor sent here, and had been in constant use ever since. He looked as though he was lost and had no hopes of finding himself.

Twenty years ago a man in Missouri left his wife and came out to California to dig gold. He didn't make a fortune, and didn't go back. After many years of wandering and of miner's luck, he went to Boise valley, Idaho. This was about four years ago. He had not heard from his wife for fifteen years. But, like another Penelope, she had faith in the return of her Ulysses. Last fall he resolved to go back, and did go back. He found his wife at the old home waiting for him, though she had not heard from him for nearly 20 years. He is coming back to Idaho this spring and will bring his wife with him. The Boise Democrat tells this with many additions and all the variations.

The Roseburg Ensign states that one Sol. Eddy (the Plaindealer calls him Ady), of Myrtle creek, lately attempted self-destruction, and is partially insane. He was to be examined with a view to being sent to the Asylum.

American Iron Ships.

[From the Washington Chronicle.]

It is often asserted with the utmost confidence that we in the United States never can build iron ships as cheaply as they are constructed on the Mersey and the Clyde. So, thirty years ago it was as positively declared that we could never manufacture cotton goods at so low a rate as in England, because wages in that country are so much cheaper than in ours.

But a temporary assistance stimulated the activity of our capitalists. American energy, skill, and inventive genius devised improved machinery and economic methods, until, just before the war, we could outdo the world both in price and in quality of fabric. We can do the same again in cotton with proper encouragement.

We can do it in ship building. Our wooden ships, in shapeliness and speed, were once the monarchs of the wave. So can our iron ships be. They can, too, in a few years, be built cheaper. We have better coal, better, cheaper, and more accessible timber, and particularly better and heavier iron. If then, with adequate encouragement, our capitalists and mechanics but bend their utmost energies to this work, they will display the old skill and superiority. As they made the best wooden ships, they will construct the trimmest, the fastest, and the noblest iron ships. As they distanced Europe in cotton weaving, they will distance the workmen of all coasts in ship building.

The vast superiority of our iron is not enough considered. It has a tensile strength nearly twice that of the English iron. A plate of American iron of two-thirds the weight of an English plate is superior in strength and durability. That one third in weight can be added to the cargo of the ship. In that one-third is the command of the trade of all oceans if we will but make it so. Yet some say that iron ships cannot be built at all in this country. When we wanted monitors and iron-clad gunboats they were built. Make it worth the while to construct iron ships in the United States, and they will be promptly and well built. It is an insult to the workingmen of the Nation to affirm that they cannot do it. We affirm that, with proper encouragement, the finest iron ships in the world can be built of American material, on the American coast, by American mechanics, and that in a few years they can be built, when their quality is considered, as cheaply as anywhere else on the globe. Will it not pay to try it?

A CHARACTERISTIC LETTER FROM SUSAN B. ANTHONY.—The following letter, addressed to Mrs. Woodhull, tells its own story:

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 4, 1871.

BRAVO! MY DEAR WOODHULL: Your letter is here, via Leavenworth, and the telegrams of the majority reports. Glorious "Old Ben!" He is surely going to pronounce the word that will settle the woman question, just as he did the word "Contraband," that so summarily settled the negro question. It will be a great triumph if you get the Representative house. And so Mrs Grant has filed in. Well, let them come; the day is near when all will wish they had come sooner.

Everybody here chimes in with the new conclusion that we are free already. But how absolutely dead, dead are the Woman's Journal and the Revolution. One would think them in the midnight of a "Rip Van Winkle" sleep. It is beyond my comprehension how anybody can be so dull, so behind times.

Mrs. Livermore, in her speech here in this city, said: "Some able lawyers have said"—not Victoria C. Woodhull had petitioned, and all Congress and the National Woman Suffrage Committee had chimed in with an amen—"that the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments enfranchised women; but she preferred the surer process of education to this short cut. She could afford to wait." I wish I had the report. I sent it to the Revolution. But all of them are "dead as door-nails" to this new and living gospel, and we live fellers must leave them to be buried with the dead.

I have never in the whole twenty years' good fight felt so full of life and hope. I know that Mr. Train's prophesy—nay, assertion—three years ago, in the Kansas campaign, that "the women would vote for the next President," is to be realized. I am sure you and I and all women who shall wish to will vote for somebody, if not for George F. Train or Victoria C. Woodhull.

Go ahead! bright, glorious, young, and strong spirit, and believe in the best love and hope and faith of S. B. ANTHONY.

The regular monthly meeting of the Philadelphia Conference of Baptist ministers was held the other day in Philadelphia. At the conclusion of the business proceedings a very animated discussion ensued on the subject of "To what extent does a faithful witness to the truth involve a protest against error?"

Fidalgo Island, below Seattle, is fast settling up. There are now forty settlers on the island.

Private Lessons, First Grade, per term	15 00
" " Advanced Grades, per term	25 00
Singing, Elocution or Calisthenics in Classes, per term	5 00
All Three, per term	10 00
Single, Private Lessons, in either	2 50
Private, per term	25 00

Lessons to invalids double these rates.

TERMS—Ten weeks in length, two Lessons per week.

From many testimonials we submit the following.

From Circular of the State Normal Board of Minnesota: "The importance of a correct and careful training of the voice, both in singing and speaking, can scarcely be over estimated. Probably thousands of our public speakers and singers are at the present time injuring themselves by a wrong use of the vocal organs. This is the inevitable result of a false system of training. Impressed with this fact, the Board has united the departments of Vocal Music, Elocution and Physical Culture under the more comprehensive designation of the Department of Vocal and Physical Culture, and has placed at its head Professor J. H. McGibeny, one of the most accomplished instructors in this field, to be found in the country. Under his thorough and philosophical system of training, the Board confidently expects to inaugurate a much needed reform in this important branch of education in the State. This training alone will more than justify the expense of the entire Normal course."

From Hon. Marlow H. Donnell, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in his report to the Legislature of Minnesota:

"Prof. McGibeny's eminent success in the State Normal School, stamps him master of his profession."

From Dr. Yeoman, of New York city:

"We regard these exercises of the highest value in gaining and retaining strength and symmetry of body, and vigor and elasticity of mind. Under Prof McGibeny's skillful leadership they indeed work wonders."

From Gen. J. W. Sprague, Director of North Pacific Railroad:

PORTLAND, Oregon, February 23, 1871.

Prof. J. H. McGibeny, now of this city, was formerly two years Professor of Music in the State Normal School at Winona, Minnesota, (an Institution of high rank among the places of learning in the East). During that term it was my privilege to have sons under the tuition of himself and wife, who assisted him. Both are regarded as possessing rare qualities for teaching, and their efforts were highly appreciated by all who knew them; and by their high social and moral qualities they won and have retained the friendship of all who knew them. I cordially commend PROFESSOR and MRS. MCGIBENY as eminently worthy of the confidence and patronage of all. J. W. SPRAGUE.

THE SIXTH LECTURE OF THE COURSE WILL be delivered by

REV. P. S. KNIGHT,

Of Salem,

On Tuesday Evening, March 7th,

At 7½ o'clock.

Subject—"A Corrected Estimate of the Eagle Bird."

"Well, thou Shadow-bird or Substance—coming from ethereal distance
Where, perchance the Great Departed to the heights of wisdom soar,
Tell me of your curious mission, passing thus before my vision—
Dost thou come from fields Elysian? Art thou skilled in modern lore?
If, to me, thou e'er speak falsely, mayest thou wander evermore
On the 'dark Plutonian shore.'"

It is generally admitted that the American people are given to boasting and braggadocio. The lofty flight and the loud scream of our "Eagle Bird" can be witnessed at every public demonstration. Vanity, arrogance, intolerance and unblushing presumption float, as it were, in the very air. In the family, in the neighborhood, in the habits which business begets, in the political affairs of the country, we meet the same spirit of degrading boastfulness; and it is the curse of education in many parts of our land that it excites more vanity, while it instils no lofty ideas of citizen duty, and no endeavors to attain a noble manhood.

The Rev. Mr Knight is a man of large and varied reading, an earnest, energetic speaker, and a popular lecturer. He has chosen a subject, unique but practical, and his hearers can depend upon spending the evening both pleasantly and profitably.

THE VIEUXTEMPS BROTHERS

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 3, 1871.

CITY.

ASTORIA ITEMS.—A March 1st correspondent, sends from Astoria the following:

The 22d of February was celebrated here by the firemen who paraded through the streets escorting a delegation of the "Pioneers of Oregon" whose officers were elected on that day. They are: President, S. H. Smith; Vice President, Col. J. Taylor; Secretary, J. H. Hustler; Corresponding Secretary, W. H. Gray; Treasurer, A. Van Dusen; Executive Committee, T. P. Powers, H. S. Aiken and John Hobson.

The weather for a week past has been very stormy. The Varuna, the new boat which Capt. Gray and George Warren have bought to run in the place of the U. S. Grant, has been lying in Shoalwater Bay since last Thursday, waiting for a chance to come around here.

The steamship Ajax, lying here since Sunday morning, crossed the bar this (Wednesday) morning at 10 o'clock, after trying three hours.

The barks Live Yankee and Rosedale are still in the river waiting suitable weather to go to sea.

The brigs Lucas and Madawaska are lying off Cathlamet, the weather being too rough for them to haul in and load.

BAR MEETING.—Pursuant to a call, published in the daily papers, the members of the bar of this city held a meeting at the U. S. Court room last evening for the purpose of taking measures to procure from the members of the bar of Oregon contributions in aid of the family of the late Chief Justice, Roger B. Taney.

Judge M. P. Deady was chosen Chairman, and ... Wilcox, Secretary.

The Chairman stated the object of the meeting, after which, on motion Messrs. W. Lair Hill, J. S. Mitchell, J. H. Reed and W. W. Page, were appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions from the members of the bar of Oregon for the purpose stated.

On motion it was directed that the committee pay over moneys collected to the Hon. M. P. Deady to be forwarded to the Chairman of the Central Committee of the United States, [Senator Carpenter, of Wisconsin,] and that the committee call another meeting at some proper time hereafter, to which they shall report their proceedings in the matter.

The meeting then adjourned.

A CASE OF ROBBERY.—Four young men who are known as Johnny Foster, Arthur Barrett, Bob Knox, and Pennyfeather, were arrested about one o'clock, yesterday morning, on the complaint of George W. White, whom they had robbed out of a large sum of money—upwards of two hundred dollars, part being coin and part currency. White had arrived here the evening before from the Yakima valley on his way to Olympia, where he is respectably connected. After putting up at a hotel he fell in with one of the above parties, and during the evening individually visited a saloon where his associate and the other three fellows went through him for all the money he had about him. The particular hardship upon young White is that the money was mostly sums entrusted to him to pay over to parties in this city and at Olympia. We understand that no part of the money was recovered. The examination of the arrested parties will take place before Judge Lewis this morning.

NORTH PORTLAND RAILROAD FERRY.—The boat built by the Oregon & California Railroad Co., to ply between North Portland and the Clinton Point dock, commenced yesterday making trips. The landings are not altogether completed yet, and the boat had some difficulty in getting into the slip on the Portland side, in ... shape, on account of a strong wind and ... Whenever there is a strong wind ..., there will always be the same trouble, under the same management. The boat in making her crossings, made long detours down the river and then had to come up again, describing very nearly the letter S. Unless some improvement be made in the manner of crossing and landing, the trips of this boat will not be fearfully frequent. The down train which arrived at noon went down to the Clinton Point depot, and the ... arrived at this city via the new ferry.

MAILS BETWEEN PORTLAND AND OLYMPIA.—The Olympia Transcript says: "Mr. George Coggan, of the Monticello stage line, was over ... He says the stage route is a hard road to travel this winter. A few days ago, the ... river fell in one night so rapidly that the ferry boat was left high and dry on the bank, and ... no through stage came in. The ... mail was taken over by canoe and packed ... He has just made arrangements for a line of canoes to run from Pumphrey's to ..., running down on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and returning on Mondays, ... and Fridays, carrying passengers, ... and mail. A letter mail will also go down over the mountains and back, three times a week, on opposite days, making the mail connection through daily, each way."

HAPPY OUTCOME.—The managers of the ... day evening, in aid of the German ... Aid Fund, think they will have close ... after paying all expenses. This is a ... sum to raise by a fair prepared in so brief time as was given to this. The original intention was to merely raffle off the clock with a few other things, at the ball; but the ladies commenced adding to the collection of articles, and before the appointed time arrived, the articles had ... so numerous as to suggest the propriety of postponing the raffle a few days and to make a fair of it. This was done, and the result is the receipt of a large sum of money instead of a trifle which was at first contemplated.

EVERYWHERE.—Sensations seem to be prevalent throughout the country. Everybody has one. Astoria has got one, now. A correspondent says that the last railroad report there is, to the effect that Ben Halliday has concluded that the location and anchorage are better at Point Adams (Fort Stevens); that the road can be built to that point more easily than to Astoria; and that if he can get the government to deed him half the fortifications, he will run the road there ... of to Astoria. This is really too silly for even a mediocre sensation, and if the Astorians can't do better than that they had better stick to plain prose and documentary facts.

CAR OFF THE TRACK.—The rear passenger car of the afternoon up train yesterday, dropped off the rails just at the upper end of the new dock at Clinton's Point. The accident occurred in consequence of the bad order of the track. No damage was, however, done, as the train was running very slowly. The train went on, leaving the disabled car. The latter was replaced on the track and such repairs were made as will prevent a recurrence of the accident.

THE NEXT AND CONCLUDING LECTURE.—The concluding lecture of the Y. M. C. Association's course will be delivered by Rev. P. S. Knight, of Salem. Subject—"A corrected estimate of the Eagle Bird." Mr. Knight generally says something when he talks, and, more than most of our ... gentlemen, is given to saying something new or out of the hackneyed course of things. Judging of the subject chosen, we should say that Mr. Knight will be very apt to deliver an interesting and amusing lecture.

STEAMER ITEMS.—The P. T. Co.'s folks are tickled at the idea of the Success making a round trip to Salem and back. She went up in only thirteen hours! Almost as soon as an ordinary pedestrian would make the distance by land.

The O. S. N. Co.'s steamer Josie McNear took on freight yesterday, and will to-day commence running regular trips to Astoria and back.

WORK RESUMED.—A force of hands with a pile driver resumed work yesterday at the steamship and railroad wharf at North Portland; and another force went to work on the ferry landing. The place wore a lively appearance during the day, and was visited by a great number of people of apparent leisure.

THE NORTHERN STEAMERS.—We understand that a dispatch was received yesterday from Victoria stating that two days ago the steamer Geo. S. Wright was at Neeah Bay and the California in the "Royal Roads," waiting the subsidence of stormy weather to put to sea for this port. They may be looked for to arrive at any hour.

ANOTHER JURY PROBABLY HUNG.—The jury in the case of the State of Oregon vs James L. Daly, retired at half past ten o'clock yesterday morning, and at last accounts were still out. After so long a consideration of the matter, it is not probable that any agreement has been or can be had.

NATIONAL BANK.—The National Bank will be prepared on and after next Monday to do business at the new rooms, in Corbett's building.

RAILROAD MEETING.

LECTURE BY W. W. CHAPMAN—RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED—NEW RAILROAD COMPANY IN PROSPECT.

In accordance with previous announcement, Col. W. W. Chapman delivered an address at the Court House on the subject of the "Railroad Situation." The assemblage numbered about one hundred of our citizens.

The meeting was organized by the election of Chas. M. Carter, President; and D. C. Ireland, Secretary.

Col. Chapman then came forward and addressed the meeting, speaking for something more than an hour. In order to point out what is for the interest of Portland to do in the matter of railroad connections, he exhibited a map of the United States on which he had drawn lines, showing the natural convergence of lines of communication; what sections and populations may be connected with Portland, how, and by what routes; what sections would inevitably favor the Northern Pacific route; what sections by way of Omaha with all western routes and termini, etc. According to this diagram and his calculations, the States which will favor the Northern Pacific road as against any other, are Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Maine and Vermont, with an aggregate population of 3,958,000.

The States which must favor the Omaha route as against all others, are Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, two-thirds of New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, and Connecticut, with an aggregate population of over 15,000,000.

So far as connection with the Northern Pacific coast is concerned, all the States south of those last mentioned would, of course, favor the Omaha route.

Hence, his conclusion was that our best connection with the East is by way of a road to connect us with the Omaha route, inasmuch as that would be the most natural and desirable connection with a very large proportion of the entire population and area of the United States east of the Rocky Mountains. His plan was to construct a railroad from Portland to the Dalles, and thence through Idaho to a junction with the Union Pacific road near Salt Lake. These were the speaker's conclusions, rather than his arguments.

At the conclusion of his address Mr. E. D. Shattuck offered the following resolutions, which were adopted unanimously:

WHEREAS, Direct trade between the city of Portland, Oregon, and Eastern Asia and the islands of the Pacific ocean, has been established, and direct importation from Europe to this city has commenced, and this city is able if proper means of transportation be afforded, to supply all Eastern Oregon and Washington, as well as large portions of Idaho and Montana, with merchandise, more readily and at cheaper rates than is done by any other; and

WHEREAS, More direct and speedy communication with the Atlantic States by the way of Eastern Oregon and Idaho is of vital importance to the whole State of Oregon, and especially to the city of Portland, as well as a measure of national concern; therefore

Be it Resolved, 1. That the people of Portland deem it a matter of the first importance to secure the early construction of a railroad and telegraph from this city through the Columbia gap of the Cascade mountains, by way of Eastern Oregon and Southwestern Idaho, to some point of intersection with the Union Pacific railroad.

2. That it is directly for the interest of Portland and the Willamette valley to have an active and positive part in the location and construction of the road mentioned in the first resolution; and that the people here assembled do recognize and adopt the measures taken to organize the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company as a move in the right direction.

3. That our delegation in Congress be and they are most respectfully requested to use their influence and to put forth their most earnest efforts to procure, for the construction of a railroad and telegraph, as mentioned in the first and second resolutions, such aid from the Government as has been or shall be granted to other roads in the State of Oregon.

Mr. J. H. Mitchell moved that a vote of thanks be tendered Col. Chapman for his address, which was unanimously agreed to.

The meeting then adjourned.

AMUSEMENTS.

BENEFIT.—This evening Messrs. Cogbill and Cooper, of the Nickerson Minstrel Troupe, will take a benefit. We learn that several volunteers will appear in the bill which it is confidently expected will be the best of the season.

THE NICKERSON MINSTRELS.—In consequence of the bad weather there was but a thin attendance at Oro Fino Theater last evening, but the boys gave a full bill and a good performance.

THE COURTS.

Thursday, March 2, 1871.

FOURTH CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—State of Oregon vs Robert Willey, convicted of perjury by false evidence in the Police Court; sentenced to confinement in the penitentiary for a term of three years.

A venire was issued for twenty-four more jurors, returnable Monday morning.

J. P. O. Lownsdale, Charles Holman, and George W. Cannon, jurors, were excused for the term.

State of Oregon vs Samuel Vowles; indictment for mayhem; cause tried and submitted to the jury.

A. Labbe, a juror, was excused till Monday.

State of Oregon vs James L. Daly; indictment for larceny; trial concluded and cause submitted to the jury at half past ten A. M.

The Court adjourned till 10 A. M., to-morrow.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

THURSDAY, March 2, 1871.

James Carsman to William Showers, lots 5 and 6 in block 263, in Aiken's Addition; warranty deed; consideration, $500.

H. C. Shattuck and wife to Leonard Fisk, a tract of land containing 5¼ acres, in section 8, township 1 south, range 3 east; and 90 acres of the G. Linneman land claim; quit claim deed, June 26, 1869; consideration, $50.

Leonard Fisk to Thomas Grant, the above described tracts; warranty deed, Feb. 18, 1871; consideration, $900.

L. A. Dougherty and wife to E. Quackenbush and J. D. Whiting, lots 9 and 8 in block 127; warranty deed, February 10, 1871; consideration, $1,650.

Junetta White to S. P. White, 60 acres of land in sections 16 and 17, township 2 north, range 1 west; conditional warranty deed, June 18, 1867; consideration, $1.

M. L. White to S. P. White, 35 acres of the donation land claim of the grantor on Sauvie's Island; warranty deed, March 30, 1868; consideration, $100.

Junetta White to S. P. White, 105 acres of the donation land claim of M. L. White on Sauvie's Island; warranty deed, June 23, 1869; consideration, $300.

A NEW RAILROAD INCORPORATION.—Prior to and at the meeting at the Court House last evening, articles of incorporation of the "Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Co.," were circulated and they received the signatures of quite a number of our leading citizens. The object of the proposed incorporation is stated to be the construction of a railroad from and to the points mentioned, being the road proposed in Col. Chapman's Address and the resolutions adopted by the meeting. The articles have not yet been filed, but we are informed they will be in a few days. The signers also put their signatures to a paper authorizing W. W. Chapman to open books of stock subscriptions for and in behalf of the proposed company.

FOR THE COWLITZ TRADE.—The little steamer Wenat was hauled up on the ways at the Boneyard, on Wednesday. Her hull was caulked and repainted and, yesterday afternoon, she was launched again. Captain Smith is to run her hereafter on the Cowlitz river from Monticello to the landing above, connecting at Monticello with the Fannie Troupe and Rescue, and with the mail stages at Pumphrey's.

FOREIGN SHIPMENT OF WHEAT.—The Tenax Proposita finished receiving her cargo yesterday afternoon and cleared for Falmouth or Queenstown for orders to unload. Her cargo consists of 11,058 sacks wheat, equal to 1,352,035 lbs, of the value of $30,372. The Tenax Proposita will leave this morning in tow of the Astoria steamer. She was loaded by Messrs. Hewett, Flowerdew & Co.

DISREPUTABLE AND SHAMELESS.—One of the coves arrested for going through White, Wednesday night, had in his possession a number of dice and tools for loading them. When they were taken from him by the police he explained what the tools were for and acknowledged that he was a "professional dice loader." The fellow evidently glories in his "profession."

NEW ROUTE.—Hereafter the railroad trains will depart from and arrive at the depot at Clinton's Point. This arrangement went into effect yesterday, upon the starting of the new ferry boat.

GOOD WORDS GIVEN.—The Christian Messenger, published in Monmouth, Polk county, thus speaks of one of our well-known real estate agents: "William Davidson, of Portland, must be the prince of real estate dealers in Oregon. We have seen by the papers since our first arrival in the State that William Davidson was doing a large business—we presume the largest of any house in the West in the land business. We are certain that he merits success, because he lets the public know, by liberal advertising, where he is and what he is doing. Portland is the place for real estate transactions. Immigrants go to Mr. Davidson's office to learn where they can get land, and he hears what they need and sells them a farm to suit. Farmers who want to sell their farms will learn from the Messenger where to place their lands to have them sold to advantage, and have prompt returns."

The Young Men's Class in Elocution, Vocal Music and Calisthenics will meet at McGIBENY'S ACADEMY OF MUSIC on Wednesday evening, March 1st, at 8 o'clock, at which time future meetings will be arranged. Class for Boys at six o'clock Monday and Thursday evenings. Class for Girls, Wednesday and Saturday evenings at one o'clock P. M.

THE NEW AND VALUABLE IMPROVEMENT IN SECURING DENTAL FILLINGS—Patent applied for in January, A. D. 1871—is used only by the inventor, Dr. C. H. Mack, Office of Mack & Welch, in the Odd Fellows' Building, Portland.

Undertakers grow rich and grave yards reek with the mouldering bones of thousands who prematurely fall as victims to those relentless destroyers, Catarrh, Bronchitis and Consumption. The two latter diseases are but the children of the former, which is easily and surely cured by using Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, while for the cure of the two latter diseases nothing equals Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. Both medicines are sold by druggists, or the Catarrh Remedy may be obtained by enclosing sixty cents to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Chapter of Facts.

Space is valuable in a newspaper, and it is therefore proposed in this advertisement to condense a variety of facts, important to the public, into a small compass. These facts refer to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—what that celebrated medicine is, and what it will do. In the first place, then, the article is a stimulant, tonic and alterative, consisting of a combination of an absolutely pure spirituous agent with the most valuable medicinal vegetable substances that Botanic research has placed at the disposal of the chemist and the physician. These ingredients are compounded with great care, and in such proportions as to produce a preparation which invigorates without exciting the general system, and tones, regulates and controls the stomach, the bowels, the liver and the minor secretive organs.

What this great restorative will do must be gathered from what it has done. The case of dyspepsia, or any other form of indigestion, in which it has been persistently administered without effecting a radical cure, is yet to be heard from, and the same may be said of bilious disorders, intermittent fever, nervous affections, general debility, constipation, sick headache, mental disabilities to which the feeble are so subject. It purifies all the fluids of the body, including the blood, and the gentle stimulus which it imparts to the nervous system is not succeeded by the slightest reaction. This is a chapter of facts which readers, for their own sakes, should mark and remember.

A HOUSEHOLD BLESSING.

GENERALITIES.

A down east editor wishes the man who predicted a mild winter to send him two tons of coal.

A Cincinnati man applied in vain for insurance upon the ice covering a pond owned by him until he could house it.

A bill has been introduced in the Ohio Legislature to limit the charges for seats or berths in dining and sleeping cars.

A correspondent of the Echo at Versailles says he saw six German officers take more than one hundred and fifty-two glasses of beer at a sitting, which is but a trifle over twenty-five a head.

The Boston Post says that "Burlington has a sensation in the shape of a man in female apparel, who goes about knocking down policemen and other people with impunity, and always making good his escape."

A young man wrote to a Western stage manager recently that he wanted to try acting. He thought he would prefer to begin as a grave digger in Hamlet. He didn't want to be "one of them talking grave diggers," but thought he could come on and "sort o' boss the job."

It is worthy of note that there will be a full moon in the first week of each of the first seven months of the year. In July there will be two full moons, viz: On the 2d and 31st. And in the remaining five months, the moon will be at the full in the last day of each month.

The late Thomas Garrett once forfeited all his property in Delaware for having assisted a slave to escape. When the Sheriff's sale had concluded, the officer turned to Garrett and said: "Thomas, I hope you'll never be caught at this again." "Friend," was the reply, "I haven't a dollar in the world, but if thee knows a fugitive who needs a breakfast send him to me."

From the records of gluttony, to show how much can be eaten at a time, may be mentioned the following: According to Captain Parry a young Esquimo devoured in twenty-four hours thirty pounds, including tallow candles—the half breed "voyageurs" of Canada and the Siberian Cossacks consume an amount of animal food that would be fatal to those unaccustomed to it; the former according to Sir John Franklin, are made very discontented when put upon a short allowance of eight pounds of meat a day, their usual allowance being from twelve to twenty pounds. But it must be remembered that the greater part of this arctic diet goes to maintain the respiratory process and the animal heat.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, March 2, 1871.

Latest Gold quotation, 110⅞.

Currency quotations at San Francisco, 90½c buying; 91 ¼c selling.

Portland currency quotations, 91c buying; 91½c selling.

Exchange on San Francisco—coin, ¼ of 1 per cent.; currency ½ per cent.

Exchange on New York, 1½ per cent.; telegraph transfers, 1½ per cent.

U. S. 5-20 bonds quotable at 108½@111 for 1862 and 1867.

Rates of interest unchanged, at 1@1¼@2 per cent.

Oregon Bounty and Relief bonds, 85a87½c; State warrants, 97@par.

The monthly collections, occurring on Tuesday and Wednesday, showed money matters a trifle tighter than heretofore. This is occasioned, no doubt, by the heavy drain of coin for the purpose of purchasing spring stocks of goods. There is no reason to anticipate any permanent stringency of the market.

The business of the week in mercantile circles has been rather good for the season of the year.

We notice a fair trade in agricultural implements. The demand is considerable for Buckeyes and other favorite seed drills, but dealers have small or no stocks; just at present there are no Buckeyes in the market. Plows have moved off rapidly. There seems to be a wide area of grain sown this spring, and all implements used in putting in crops are in good demand. Prices are ruling low, however, with but little margin for profits to the importer.

Hardware—There is a fair business doing in this line. The usual shipments for the early spring trade up the Columbia are now going forward. No change in quotations.

Groceries show about the usual activity, orders being rather more plentiful from Eastern Oregon. Spices are much lower. Other goods are quotable as last week.

There has been some quickening of the dry goods trade the past week many of the interior dealers having come upon the market for early spring supplies. Altogether there is little or no complaint in any department of trade, while the prospects for a large and profitable [illegible] are far better than in corresponding [illegible] years.

[illegible] is not much activity in the produce and provision market. There is a little better inquiry for choice qualities of [illegible], but prices remain as heretofore quoted. Provisions are, in general, dull.

THE
UNK WEED REMEDY!
OR
RHEUMATIC CURE.

HISTORY

THIS REMEDY IS COMPOSED OF THE ACTIVE principle of the Unk Weed, Eng.—Thaspium, Cordatum, Origanias, Lat.—Indigenous to Oregon—Grows most abundantly and perfectly in Washington county.

PROPERTIES, &c.:

It contains an active volatile principle extracted by Ether, and a bitter Tonic principle.

Medical Properties and Uses:

It is the most Sure and Speedy Cure for Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout and Rheumatic Pains of all kinds that has ever been introduced in the Materia Medica. The Unk Weed Remedy as prepared by us, in consequence of the existing bitter principle, possesses the necessary virtue of being a

POWERFUL TONIC!

Promoting the Appetite and Invigorating the whole Digestive Apparatus, thus building and strengthening the system, while at the same time the volatile principle, being absorbed in the blood, acts specifically on the Rheumatic Poison, removing it from the circulation and system.

There are few remedies known to the Medical profession, which will remove the Rheumatic poison from the blood, but whose action is so powerful in depressing the system of the already enfeebled Rheumatic patient, that their use has to be abandoned before specific effects are obtainable. Hence the want of success in treating this prevalent, and in consequence, heretofore incurable disease. Unlike these Medicines, already known, the

"Unk Weed Remedy"

Though producing as powerful and as active effects on the blood and system in removing the Rheumatic Poison, also possesses a strong Tonic and recuperating element, which admits of its continued use even in the most delicate and debilitated. Thus we have the combination for the first time of these two necessary elements in the one remedy, which accounts for its superior and never failing curative effects in

RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT
AND
RHEUMATIC PAINS
Of all kinds.

LAND DEPARTMENT
OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd-numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect. I. R. MOORES,

WAR MISCELLANY.

"A certain sensation has been produced, I am told, in England," says Dr Russell, "by the statement that Prussian officers discuss the question of invasion of the British Islands as a possible operation. Captain Hozier, however, will doubtless inform his Government that it is a common practice for officers of the Prussian army, as a part of their military education to devise plans of campaigns in all accessible countries; that they project a campaign in Russia, in Turkey, or in Spain with professional interest. It would not be surprising if a campaign in England and the way of opening it came within the scope of their interesting problems."

A French captain, who signs "Du Breda," certifies to the Gironde that Count de Bredow, a Prussian Major commanding at Rheims, lately inflicted the punishment of the "schlague" upon thirty-eight French citizens. This punishment he thus describes: The victim is brought into a room in the Hotel de Ville, stripped naked by soldiers, and strapped down upon a table. Then twenty five blows of the schlague are inflicted upon his back, and when released he is kicked out by the soldiery. You must have heard, as I have heard, the screams of these unfortunates, and seen as I have seen, the great surface of scarified purple flesh on their backs, to form an idea of the extent of the cruelty practiced upon them. I raise up my voice to heaven for justice and vengeance, and above all, do not forget to gibbet the name of Count de Bredow.

In the Wurtemburg Chamber of Deputies, on the 4th ult., Herr Hoppf opposed the vote of money for the prosecution of the war, on the ground that it had degenerated into a war of conquest. He pleaded for "the great and beautiful city of Paris." He was replied to by Herr Romer, a national liberal, who insisted that the war was still one of defense, and must be continued until the French were disabled from attacking Germany two years hence. Its opponents were only an insignificant and powerless party which desired to strengthen the Republic in France and thus to promote republicanism elsewhere. The English, he added, had been making a profitable business with the blood money which they had pocketed, but they had thereby excited the repugnance and hatred of the German people. The vote was carried, Hoppf being the only dissentient.

A correspondent of the Cologne Gazette states that Orleans has been fined £24,000 as a punishment for an outrage on the driver of a provision column three weeks ago. He left his quarters at 7 A. M., and asked a Frenchman in a blouse the way to the bivouac outside the town, where his wagon was standing. The Frenchman pointed in the direction which he was to take, and the wagoner thanked him, but had hardly turned away when a bullet passed through his back and entered his lungs. As the offender could not be discovered the above fine was imposed. Only half the money was paid down, and plate and other articles were offered in liquidation of the second moiety. The Bavarian commandant, however, replied that he was commandant, and not storekeeper, and that the amount would be increased by £4,000 a day until the fine was paid. On the same or following day the money was forthcoming, a third of it consisting of Prussian thalers, which shows how much money the German garrison put in circulation.

A Mystery Explained.

MURDER REVEALED AFTER TWENTY YEARS CONCEALMENT.

In 1850, Chas. Ingraham left Delaware O., for California. In 1852 he returned, having with him some $6,000 in gold dust. He arrived at the Delaware station, which was three milles from the town, the curved track to the town not having been laid. Between the station and the town lived two brothers named Williams, whose reputation for honesty was bad.

At midnight, on the second day of September, "Old Fred," the night watchman at the station, was awaiting the 12:20 train, when one of the Williamses made his appearance, pretending to be looking for a friend whom he expected on the train from St. Louis. The train came about one o'clock. Ingraham alighted, being the only passenger, and received a warm reception by "Old Fred," who urged him to remain at the station until morning. He declined, and started for the town on foot and alone, although the darkness was intense, the sky cloudy and threatening rain. The friend of Williams did not come, and he left in the company of Ingraham for his cabin in the woods.

When the bus came over in the morning Fred asked the driver if he had seen Ingraham; he answered "no."

It soon became apparent that the unfortunate man never reached town. A vigilant search was immediately instituted, but no trace of the missing man could be discovered. Suspicion fell upon the Williamses; they were arrested, examined and acquitted, as nothing could be proved against them. Time passed on, and the missing man was almost forgotten.

But now comes the sequel, illustrating the old adage that "murder will out."

The mystery which has hung like a black veil around the fate of this man is solved. Recently two lads, James Thompson and John Hoskins, were hunting in the vicinity of the old Williams cabin, which was vacated by them soon after the disappearance of Ingraham. Into a hole beneath the decayed floor of this cabin the boys tracked a rabbit, and with the aid of an axe and mattock they removed the earth and rubbish. Presently something hard and white threatened to debar further progress in their labors, when young Thompson thrust in his hand to remove the obstruction, which proved, greatly to their surprise and consternation, to be a human skull. They continued their excavations and succeeded in exhuming the main parts of the human skeleton, together with a rusty plate, on which after some rubbing and scouring, the name of "Charles Ingraham, San Francisco, 1852," could be distinctly traced. He was waylaid and robbed at the Williams cabin, and the remains successfuly concealed beneath the floor, where they have been hidden until now.

An exchange says that since the Democracy of California rode into power on their galvanized Chinese hobby, they have developed a swarm of candidates and a mania for office wonderful to behold. The sunshine of their prosperity has revivified a most startling crop of the old party grub-worms, who have been burrowed in their holes since before the war. Day unto day showeth forth new and available candidates for every office in the gift of the people, from Governor down to fourth assistant deputy dog-pelter. The complexion of the Democratic convention will be very considerably mottled. There will be the railroad subsidy and the anti-subsidy men; there will be the clan secesh and the War Democrats. there will be the Irish element and the Know-Nothing leaven, and there will probably be a row.

Almost every important calling in England is now represented by a journal specially devoted to its interests. Very conspicuous among these is The Builder, remarkable not only for the excellence of its letter press, but for the admirable engravings which illustrates the same. The paper is the size of the Saturday Review, and twenty pages of closely printed advertisements sufficiently attest its popularity.

The Charleston Republican says Daniel McFarland "had the sublime iceberginess to say in his lecture, 'Thou shalt not kill, and other commands in the decalogue, must be adhered to, or society fails to exist.' What if the ghost of Albert D. Richardson had risen to confront him!"

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 3.

The Occupation of Paris.

LONDON, March 2.—Paris dispatches state that several battalions of Germans entered the city yesterday to occupy their quarters. Some battalions soon afterward paraded the Place de la Concorde. Soon a line of German troops formed along the Seine from Pont Jour to the Palais Bourbon, while on the right bank the French National Guards stopped the passage of all persons in uniform. Horse patrols were circulated and occupied their quarters. No acts of depredation were committed. The main body of the occupation army went to Long Champs and Bois de Boulogne, where a review was held, and entered Paris at noon.

The Emperor's staff are quartered at Palais Elysees.

Gen. Kanrecke commands the army of occupation.

The Emperor declares that he will not enter the city. The Crown Prince will therefore bestow the German army.

The Emperor leaves for Germany on Saturday instead of Monday.

The ratification of the treaty of peace is expected in Paris to-night. If it comes the Germans will evacuate Paris to-morrow, but if not, the 12th corps will probably take its turn to enter Paris.

LONDON, March 1.—Reports from Paris state that the National Guard at one time yesterday threatened to disobey orders and throw themselves upon the Germans, but they were dissuaded from the attempt.

French Government to Return to Paris.

BORDEAUX, March 2.—Employes of the Department of the Interior will return to Paris on Saturday. It is believed the seat of government will be transferred to Paris again as speedily as the execution of the Peace Convention permits.

Gens. Sheridan and Forsaithe have gone to Paris.

Further Particulars of the Occupation of Paris.

PARIS, March 2.—The Herald's cable dispatch says the troops in some cases on entering the city were mobbed and narrowly escaped injury.

At 11 A. M, the head of the German troops advanced up Grand Avenue. After the dragoons, came Bismarck, the Dukes of Saxe-Coburg and Luxembourg, Leopold of Bavaria, Gen. Adelbert and Prince Charles of Prussia. When the Prussian infantry passed under the Arc de Triumph, they were received by the crowd with screams and derisive shouts. Squadrons of Hussars came next. Bismarck did not enter Arc de Triumph, but turned around and rode back to Neuilly. The crowd of men and boys blocking the way, were dispersed by Uhlans. The troops looked splendid and surprised the French. All quiet.

Dispatch from London.

LONDON, March 2.—Consols, 98¾; Bank of England advanced the rate of discount to ½ per cent.

The bark George from San Francisco for Maryport, England, was lost near White Haven.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—The steamer Sacramento from Panama arrived at midnight last night, having touched at Cape St. Lucas and been delayed a few hours. She brings only $1,000 in treasure and will leave at 3 P. M. to-morrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Col John Hanna, County Clerk, in reply to the prevailing rumor that he was a defaulter to the extent of something over $3,000, having loaned the funds to an outside party and failed to get them back, has published a card as follows: "I desire to state only that no demand has been made upon me for money deposited or collected, belonging either to litigants, the city, or county, or others, but what has been paid in full, as the receipts now on file in my office will show. I further state that since my residence in this city, nearly 22 years, I have neither gambled my own, or money belonging to other parties." It is rumored that there is a defalcation in the treasurership of a benevolent institution, to the amount of less than $2,000, by a prominent citizen, who is generally reputed to be independently rich. The rumor is not generally credited.

John H. Parkinson and wife have sued Drs. John Scott, Henry Gibbons, and Henry Gibbons, Jr., for $50,000 damages for a libel alleged to have been published in the Pacific Medical and Surgical Journal, on February 1st.

The report that two women, mother and daughter, living near Bay View, were ravished on Saturday night last by three ruffians who broke into their house, is doubted by some of the police officials very strongly.

It is understood that the friends of young Edwards, who was held for trial to-day, on sixteen charges of forgery, in inadvertently copying vouchers for salaries of clerks in City Hall notes, and in a moment of absentmindedness hypothecating them as security for loans, will endeavor to refund the money obtained, and have the charges dismissed.

The Coroner's jury, in the matter of the Minna street disaster, rendered a verdict this evening, acquitting the contractor from any blame for the falling of the wall, and ascribing the deaths of four victims solely to accident.

The Germans have fixed on the 22d of March for their grand peace celebration.

CRIMES.

At Napa (Cal.) on the 20th of February, a man named Fred. Coombs shot his wife and then killed himself instantly. The former lived about twenty minutes. Family troubles were the cause of the tragedy.

In the Criminal Court at Memphis (Tenn.) on the 20th ult. a verdict was rendered in the case of Graves and Boston, charged with hanging a boy, named Schofield. The jury returned the following verdict: "We, the jury, find the prisoners guilty of murder in the first degree, but recommend them to the clemency of the Court."

The killing of a man named Reed by young Clarke, at Williamson's ranch, near Oakland (Cal.) a few days since, occurred under rather extraordinary circumstances. Reed and others had been ejected from the premises and the Clarkes put in possession. The Sheriff, however, had told Reed he could have that and the next day in which to remove his personal property. He appears to have been quietly and legally engaged in the exercise of this privilege when he was shot and killed by Clarke.

A few days ago Ellis L. Jenkins, Deputy U. S. Marshal for the Eastern District of Missouri, and Deputy Collector of the Second Revenue District, was shot and killed while standing in the sitting room of a hotel at New Madrid. The fatal shot was fired through the window of the sitting room. Jenkins had had during the day words with a son of the Sheriff of New Madrid county, and it is said pistols were drawn, but it is not known whether this man committed the deed. No arrests were made at last accounts.

CURRENT NOTES.

An extra session of the Mexican Congress will assemble March 10th, when an attempt will be made to pass a law declaring Juarez ineligible to re-election.

It is doubtful if the bills to admit as States into the Union the Territories of New Mexico, Colorado and Utah will be reported in the House this session.

It is officially stated that the London Conference has agreed to open the Black Sea to all war vessels which may enter by the Straits of Dardenelles, excepting those of Russia.

The great bridge over East river at New York, is to be built. Negotiations have been completed by which the Brooklyn Bridge Company occupies for $80,000, the Burling ferry slip as a site for the New York tower of the bridge.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Entry into Paris.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The Tribune's correspondent telegraphs further particulars of the triumphal march of the Germans into Paris. Precautions against popular disturbances were complete and perfect. Upon entering the city one German division stacked their arms and picketed their horses opposite the Palais de L'Industrie. Parisians, mostly of the lower classes, gathered about, examined the accoutrements and conversed with them. Fears of pillage, sedulously inculcated by the Parisians, are now believed to be entirely groundless.

The War Indemnity.

LONDON, March 2.—The war indemnity is made payable in three installments, as follows: One milliard in 1871; two milliards in 1872, and two milliards in 1873. Interest will be only payable at the last installment, from which the proportion of the debt appertaining to Alsace and Lorraine, estimated at half a milliard, and the cost of the eastern French railways will be deducted.

The subject of a treaty of commerce has not been mooted.

The Treaty Signed.

VERSAILLES, March 2.—Favre has notified Bismarck of the vote of the Assembly. Bismarck replied that he was ready to exchange ratifications.

The Emperor has already signed the treaty.

Germans to Evacuate Paris.

LONDON, March 1.—The French authorities are endeavoring to make such arrangements with the Prussians as will hasten the evacuation of Paris. It is believed the Germans will leave this evening, or, at the latest, to-morrow morning. There is great excitement in Paris. A crowd of Parisians observing some Prussians in the C... of Louvre and Place Parousel yesterday attempted to use force for their expulsion ... were kept back by a line of troops. Cont... are expected if the Germans do not ... Disguised Prussian officers penetrated ... were recognized and attacked, but protected by the authorities and reconducted to the German lines. The populace are less calm than yesterday.

PARIS, March 2.—Favre has gone to Versailles to-day to demand the immediate evacuation of Paris by virtue of the terms of the convention.

BORDEAUX, March 2.—A dispatch from Paris on the evening of the 2d, says ratifications of the treaty of peace were exchanged to-day.

Favre has returned from Versailles.

Paris is now tranquil. The Prussians evacuate the city to-morrow.

English Affairs.

LONDON, March 2.—The resignation of Childers, first Lord of Admiralty, is again reported. The report is accompanied by the statement that Earl Kimberly succeeds Childers and Chichester.

Fortesque assumes the duties of Minister for the Colonies, made vacant by the transfer of Kimberly.

BRUSSELS, March 2.—The Belgian army is being placed on a peace footing, and the militia sent home.

The Peace Plenipotentiaries will sit at Hotel de Ville, Brussels.

LONDON, March 2.—A league is being formed at Havre to prevent the return of German employes.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—In the Senate, on motion of Sumner, the House bill relating to telegraphic communication between the United States and foreign countries, and providing a code for telegraph cable companies, was passed as amended, to limit cable messages of ten words to $5 gold, exclusive of the address and signature.

The bill to divide the State of Ohio into three Judicial circuits was debated at length and amended by providing for the erection of new Judicial districts in the States of Tennessee, Alabama and California.

Davis moved to lay the bill and amendments on the table.

Sherman said he would regard the vote as a test of the Senate, and called for the yeas and nays. The motion was carried, and the subject was thus disposed of—ayes, 30; nays, 28.

In the House, Wheeler, from the Committee of Conference on the Southern Pacific Railroad bill, made a report that the House agrees to the change of title of the company to that of the Texas Pacific Railroad. The Senate having agreed to the House substitute with two additional sections, one providing for a similar grant of public lands in Louisiana to the New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Vicksburg Railroad Company, at its eastern terminus, by way of Alexandria, and the other for a similar grant to the Southern Pacific road by way of Los Angeles, at or near the Colorado river. Wheeler explained that by the new sections, the grant of land would be increased over that made by the House bill (13,000,000 acres) by between four and six millions of acres. He did not believe a project of such great importance should be longer delayed by such a consideration.

Mr. Holman moved to lay the bill on the table. Negatived; the House refusing even to order the yeas and nays on it.

The conference report was then agreed to; ayes 124; nays 64.

The Senate bill to create ports of delivery at Eureka and Wilmington, within the collection district of San Francisco, was taken from the table and passed.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—At a meeting of the Conference Committee on the Southern Pacific railroad bill yesterday the conferees on the part of the House receded from the position assumed the other day by the House when the bill was reported by Wheeler and passed. The debate at that time showed a determination to have nothing to do with anything but the trunk line from Marshall, Texas, to San Diego, California. The Gulf and Pacific States united in the Senate, and thus compelled a recognition of the New Orleans and San Francisco interests. According to the bill as agreed on in conference, that road at its California terminus, from the neighborhood of Fort Yuma, is allowed to go to a point in the mountain range in the 35th parallel, or near to where the Southern Pacific or California Company is now constructing. The House bill confined it to the direct San Diego route, and the projected line from New Orleans to Marshall, Texas, is also incorporated in the bill. This leaves out only so much of the original Senate bill as permitted the Tennessee and Arkansas lines to become part of the Southern trans-continental system. There is great dissatisfaction on the part of Senators who represent these interests, and one or two of them have declared their intention of talking the bill to death unless it is allowed to come in.

The feeling in the House seems somewhat antagonistic to the introduction of any branch, but the friends of the bill and its managers outside are quite confident of success.

NEW YORK, March 3.—According to correspondents at Washington, counter claims of Great Britain for damages to the property of Englishmen in this country during the war of the rebellion and to Canada for injuries received by citizens of the new Dominion, during the Fenian raids, will probably be insisted upon and pressed in mitigation, by the British members of the High Commission of the Alabama claims bill. It is even intimated that the total amount of damages from these sources on either side will sum up considerably more than the total on our side.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—The weather is very dry; wind of the order of San Francisco zephyrs, and dust equal to July. Indications of rain this morning, but all disappeared.

The Western Union Telegraph office at San Leandro was reopened.

The Eureka Mining Co., Grass Valley, pays a dividend of two dollars for February.

Senator Casserly telegraphs that the notes for the San Francisco Gold Bank will be forwarded next week.

The Columbia River Manufacturing Company purchased the bark Rival, recently in the Puget Sound trade, and will put her on their line.

It is now positive that Meadow Valley will not pay a dividend for February. It is rumored that one of the leading officers of the company, who has gone on a tour abroad for his health, has sold out the bulk of his stock.

Arrived—Brig Crescent, from Newcastle Island; with stone for the new Mint; steamer California, San Diego; steamer Ajax, Portland.

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 4, 1871.

A Question of Development.

An organization called the "Land Reform Association," has its headquarters at 518 Pearl street, New York city. A circular letter from the Secretary of this Association informs us that the primary objects of the same are "to enforce upon our National Congress the urgent and imperative necessity of reserving the remainder of the public domain intact, for the exclusive use of actual settlers." Accompanying the circular is a printed form of a petition to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, with ruled spaces for signatures. The petition sets forth at some length the alleged urgent necessity of the enactment of a law to prevent or declare against, any further grant of lands for railroads or for any other similar purpose. "We urge our appeal," say the authors of the petition, "on the ground that tens of thousands of industrial classes of large cities and towns, now unemployed, must seek an outlet and escape from the poverty and distress which surrounds them, or be rapidly driven to pauperism and crime. We urge our appeal as a measure of justice to the whole American people, as a rich legacy in trust by our generation for those to come after us—never to be alienated."

In the abstract, all this is very fine. To people at the East these reasons may seem very strong. That there is an objection to the aggregation of very large tracts of land in the hands of corporations, we readily admit. The policy creates "landed monopolies," and helps to build up great corporations which it may be difficult in future years to check or control. But there is also another side to the question. What is the public domain worth when it is so distant that nobody can reach it? Where there are no channels of communication and no way of reaching market, land is practically valueless. Without railroads all the great interior country is inaccessible. Settlers would never occupy it. The Northern Pacific Railroad Company have a grant of lands which, as the construction of their road proceeds, will become very valuable; but without the road these same lands, in a century hence, would be worth little more than now. The country cannot be opened for settlement without railroads, and the railroads cannot be built through the interior country without grants of land. Even those portions of country near the coast, which have the advantage of an outlet by sea, are filling with population very slowly, because there is no railroad communication to connect them with the older States. The construction of lines of railway across the continent is absolutely necessary to the development and progress of this part of the country, as well as of the great interior; yet those lines of railway never would be constructed without subsidies of land. There is an objection to "landed monopolies," but there is a greater objection to continuing in the undeveloped condition in which this region of country has ever been.

It is said that the public domain must be reserved for people of the overcrowded East, and not given away to railroads. This would suit the excellent people who are crowding together in the great centers of population, and who feel so greatly the want of room, would but come out this way and occupy the lands. But they do not come. The simple fact is that most of them do not want to come and the few who desire it cannot get here. The trip costs a great deal of money and takes time. People who would seek homes in the unoccupied parts of the country cannot get there until railroads are built to carry them. The old method of migrating with ox teams and sitting down in the wilderness has had its day. Before we shall be wholly converted to the position that all the public domain should be reserved for settlers from the overcrowded East, and none of it donated for purposes of internal improvement, we shall want to be informed how those settlers are to get here. The logic that insists that the lands should all be kept for the settlers when there is no way for the settlers to get at them, strikes us as very illusive. If the Land Reform Association of New York will find a way to fill all our unoccupied country with people, so as to give them the benefit of the lands and thus build up great communities whose traffic will be considerable enough to cause railroads to be built by private enterprise we should fully commend their present undertaking. But the idea of reserving all the lands for people who, without railroads, would never be able to reach them, and thus retard indefinitely the development of the country, does not seem to be of much practical value.

It is stated that the Orleans Princes, whose fortunes are now in the ascendant in France, look on the constitutional monarchy of England as the finest model of a good government for France. A distinguished American states that the Count of Paris, in a recent conversation with him, not only emphatically expressed his convictions in this direction but said that his observations had entirely assured him that "personal government was a thing of the past, that the tendency was toward popular government, and that constitutional monarchy was the best expedient for making the transition. His conversation altogether strongly impressed the American to whom it was addressed with the idea that, for a Prince, the Count of Paris was extremely well informed, liberal and sensible.

Postmaster General Creswell has written a letter to the Senate Postal Committee stating definitely his action in the Chorpenning affair. He shows that he persistently opposed the claim until Congress passed the act allowing it, after which he merely passed upon it as required to by law, and that he then cautioned the Sixth Auditor of the Treasury to make a thorough examination of the subject.

In the House of Representatives a bill to authorize the President to appoint members of a joint commission to establish the northwest boundary line between the United States and British America passed. The object is to determine the boundary line between the Lake of the Woods and the Rocky Mountains. The appropriation for the purpose is $100,000.

The New York Tribune says the Democrats "may carry Pennsylvania by-and-by; to do it, they have only to convince her (as they did in '44) that their candidates are as good protectionists as ours, if not a little better."

From the Salem Statesman of Friday: An old man named Hilton, who lives near the woolen factory, dropped suddenly dead yesterday morning whilst out chopping in his yard. He was 71 years of age, and it is supposed that he died of heart disease, as he had been complaining for some time past of palpitation of the heart.

Hendricks and Pendleton.

It is somewhat painful to witness the fickleness of Democratic admiration for the "gallant Pendleton." Two years ago he was the idol of the Western Democracy. Now, he is never talked of. In enumerating candidates for the Presidency they never think of him. He has been supplanted by a little fellow named Hendricks, whom even the Oregon Democracy have taken up for a leader. We find some of the papers of that party in this State printing and endorsing an assertion of the Sacramento Reporter, to the effect that Hendricks is "undoubtedly the choice of eight-tenths of the Democratic party of this coast. Where, alas! is the affection that was once lavished on poor Pendleton? Has the "Young Eagle of the West" degenerated into a common barnyard fowl? It appears, however, that Pendleton's friends are not disposed to submit to the machinations of the Hendricks faction. A quarrel is brewing, of which an Ohio correspondent of the Indianapolis (Ind.) Journal thus takes notice:

The friends of Hon. T. A. Hendricks have asserted, with a boldness challenging answer, that the Hon. George H. Pendleton acquiesced in his assumed ascendency in the West, and that the "Pendleton men" preferred Mr. Hendricks as our next President. I am able to state to you that the assertion is false in its length, its breadth, and its thickness. Benedict Arnold attempted to betray the forces placed under his command; Mr. Hendricks did betray those who trusted in his leadership in 1868. Arnold is the precedent for military treachery, as is Hendricks for political chicanery. I seek access to the people through your paper, because my friend Bright of the Sentinel has come to his second sight—he sees now through Hendricks' glasses, and hence the vista. Mr. Hendricks did, in 1868, bargain first, with Hancock; secondly, with Samuel L. Tilden of New York, the people's enemy and the bondholders' friend; and, thirdly, with the Hon. George H. Pendleton, the defender of labor and the victim of capital. He broke with Hancock and Pendleton, but kept faith with the bondholders. If Indianians want proof of this, they can get it until they can't stand. As you know, I am a Democrat, and have no idea of ever voting the Republican ticket, and less idea of being again led by an American Talleyrand.

THE TERRITORIES.

The Boise City papers demand the establishment of a public reading room at that place.

Pack trains loaded with provisions are beginning to move from Walla Walla toward the mines.

"The annexation of Northern Idaho to Washington Territory is the adjustment of territorial boundaries proposed by the Walla Walla Union.

Petrified salmon, nearly perfect, are found in the sandstone of old Table Rock mountain in Idaho. The perfectly formed rattles of a rattle snake have also been found in the same sandstone.

The Northern Pacific Railroad will change the whaling business of the United States. Puget Sound is only eighteen days from the best ground left to American harpooners. It is the cheapest and best place in the Pacific in which to fit out, refit, repair and discharge. Kindred to this business, and of even larger dimensions, will be the taking and curing of cod, hake, and halibut, upon a line of soundings nearly 3,000 miles in extent.

The Walla Walla Union is highly gratified with the action taken by Senator Williams to secure a new land district east of the mountains, with a land office at Walla Walla. It says: Heretofore the expense of going to Vancouver to attend to land business has been a great tax on the settler and costs nearly as much as the price of the land. This item of expense alone is sufficient to deter some from taking claims that otherwise would avail themselves of the benefit of the public land laws.

From the Idaho Statesman: Col. Stevenson, of Pioneer, one of the leading miners in the Territory, arrived in town last Tuesday. He states that there is a prospect for a goodly supply of water and a lively mining campaign in Boise county the coming spring and summer. Around Pioneer there has not been a larger snow fall for many years. The mining there is going on more in the hills and bars, and the scientific facilities and appliances are being introduced more than ever before.

The Boise Statesman says there is a good prospect for a favorable mining season. From all quarters the indications' are cheering for a lively campaign against the ancient boulders and gold-bearing pay grit. In Boise county they are getting the mining business down to a fraction. The unavoidable drawback to this camp, the want of water, still exists. But measures have been taken to make every drop available to the utmost, so that the yield from there will probably not fall off from last year, but rather increase.

A recent letter from the Snake river mines contains this: There are thousands of claims here that are called wages diggings, but when it takes $5 to pay the man to take out $5 there is no encouragement for mine owners to work their ground. But as we have rescinded the by-laws prohibiting Chinese from mining in the district this season, no doubt all the ground can be worked at a profit. We will want 2,000 by the 1st of April to work our mines. The merchants are ordering large stocks of goods for the Spring trade, and we trust are long to have lively times on the river. Persons visiting our mines will find it the most direct route to leave the Boise road at Rock Creek Station and take the road to Little Falls.

Military Reservations to be Sold.

We take from the Congressional Globe of the 12th the following report of the bill to make disposition of certain Military Reservations which are deemed useless to the Government. The bill has passed both Houses. The report says:

The bill proposes to empower the Secretary of War to transfer to the custody and control of the Secretary of the Interior, for disposition for cash, according to the existing laws of the United States relating to the public land, after appraisement, to the highest bidder at not less than the appraised value, nor at less than $1 25 per acre, the United States military reservations at Forts Lane and Walla Walla, in the State of Oregon, Fort Zarah, in the State of Kansas; Camp McGarry, in the State of Nevada; Fort Sumner, in the Territory of New Mexico; Forts Jessup and Sabine, in the State of Louisiana; Wayne and Fort Smith, in the State of Arkansas; Fort Collins, in the Territory of Colorado; Fort Dakota, in the Territory of Dakota; and such portions of the reservation at Fort Bridger, in the Territory of Wyoming, as may no longer be required for military purpose; provided that the Secretary of the Interior shall, whenever in his opinion the public interests may require it, cause any of the foregoing reservations, or parts thereof, to be subdivided into tracts less than forty acres each, or into town lots, and provided also, that each subdivision shall be appraised and offered separately at public outcry to the highest bidder, as hereinbefore provided; after which any unsold land or lot shall be subject to sale at private entry for the appraised value at the proper Land Office, and provided also, that should there be improvements of buildings or of building materials or other valuable property, the Secretary of the Interior shall have them appraised; and no patent shall issue for the real estate until the improvements are paid for at the appraised value thereof, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior. The second section provides that the right is thereby granted to Dalles City to have and use the waters of Mill creek, flowing through the military reservation of Fort Dalles, Oregon, and the right of way to convey the same through the said reservation for the purpose of supplying Dalles City with water for manufacturing purposes. The section provides that permission is granted to the corporated authorities of Dalles City to extend Liberty street southerly, on the line of the same, through said reservation; and the land lying east thereof be, and the same is granted to said Dalles City, in fee, upon the payment to the United States therefor of the sum of five dollars per acre. The fourth section provides that the land thereby granted to said city shall be surveyed under the direction of the Surveyor-General for the State of Oregon, upon application to him made by the Mayor of said city; and the expenses of such survey shall be paid by said Dalles City.

OREGON.

The County Court of Marion county is accumulating funds to build a new court house with. 'Tis time, that's certain.

S. Huelat of Oregon City has become insane, and has been taken to the Asylum. He had the same malady some years ago.

The census taker at Oregon City makes the population of that place but 924. The United States census last summer made it 275 larger.

Judge Boise has dismissed the petition for mandamus to compel the State Treasurer to pay certain warrants. A written opinion on the subject may be expected.

A few nights ago a Linn county thief stole 2,500 lbs of raw leather out of the vats of a tannery near Lebanon. It is expected that he will be back for the tanyard, shortly.

On Thursday the remains of the late Delazon Smith, and his daughter, Viola, were removed from the city cemetery at Albany to the new Masonic cemetery and interred by the side of those of the recently deceased wife and mother.

From the Boise Statesman: An Oregon paper says that "M. D. Fleischner, late of Idaho City, is appointed Assistant Treasurer, and will attend to the duties of that office hereafter." That is rather a good one on the Oregon Democracy, who have heretofore ranted so much about carpet baggers. And Democratic Treasurers from Idaho are such a good hand to draw too.

A young man at Albany who was assisting the Sheriff in guarding prisoners a few days since met with a singular accident. He had a powder flask in his pocket, and going to the stove to warm himself the flask exploded, "elevating" him considerably. It set his clothes on fire and the flames began to crawl up his back, but another person who was present managed to extinguish the fire. His injuries were slight.

On the 14th February Senator Corbett introduced in the Senate a resolution to provide that the sureties upon the official bond of William L. Adams, late Collector of Customs for the District of Oregon, be released from any liability on account of the money stolen from him while he was carrying the same from Astoria to San Francisco under the orders of the Treasury Department in the year 1866. Objection was made and the resolution went over.

Important building enterprises are projected at Salem for this season. The Statesman says: "The Mason and Odd Fellows' Building Association contemplate the erection of an edifice that will be one of the most elegant and substantial in our city, and capacious also, as it must be to accommodate the numerous branches of those Orders which flourish here. We are informed that four large halls will be requisite, and that the Association has abundant means on hand. The location is not yet determined, but the building is said to be a fixed fact." Water works are also to be constructed, and it is believed that the proposed manufactory of agricultural implements will be erected.

CURRENT NOTES.

The American claims against Spain, accruing out of the Cuban war, have been amicably adjusted. Spain will soon consider proposals for the sale of Cuba.

Arrangements for a grand peace demonstration to be celebrated on the declaration of peace between France and Germany, are now being actively discussed in German societies and circles throughout New York city. The programme is to have a public procession or a demonstration at Cooper Institute.

Stupendous frauds are charged on the Treasurer of Mexico, who is held responsible for a deficiency of $3,000,000. He has demanded an investigation; but under pretense of being ill, the investigation is continually postponed. It is rumored that Romero has made a million by this defalcation.

A comparative statement, showing the receipts from the several general sources of revenue taxable under the existing laws, for the first six months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1870 and 1871, shows an aggregate decrease of $3,706,818. The statement of spirits shows a decrease of $1,354,310; tobacco increases the receipts $967,970, and fermented liquors gives an increase of $589,474. There is a decrease from incomes of $2,298,009.

A cable dispatch of February 11th says: The London Times of to-day "views with mixed feelings the appointment of the Commission." "The settlement of one tangible grievance," it says, "is desirable; but, unhappily, a treaty has already been rejected by the American Senate, indicating but a slight desire on the part of the Americans to remove the grounds of differences between the two countries. When the principle of the Alabama claims is determined the individual claims will be easily adjusted." The Times adds that the "tone of American discussion must change in all respects if good feeling is to be restored" between England and America.

From many testimonials we submit the following
From Circular of the State Normal Board of Minnesota:
"The importance of a correct and careful training of the voice, both in singing and speaking, can scarcely be over estimated. Probably thousands of our public speakers and singers are at the present time injuring themselves by a wrong use of the vocal organs. This is the inevitable result of a false system of training. Impressed with this fact, the Board has united the departments of Vocal Music, Elocution and Physical Culture under the more comprehensive designation of the Department of Vocal and Physical Culture, and has placed at its head Professor J. B. McGibeny, one of the most accomplished instructors in this field, to be found in the country. Under his thorough and philosophical system of training, the Board confidently expects to inaugurate a much needed reform in this important branch of education in the State. This training alone will more than justify the expense of the entire Normal course.
From Hon. Marlow H. Dunnell, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in his report to the Legislature of Minnesota:
"Prof. McGibeny's eminent success in the State Normal School, stamps him master of his profession."
From Dr. Youman, of New York city:
"We regard these exercises of the highest value in gaining and retaining strength and symmetry of body and vigor and elasticity of mind. Under Prof. McGibeny's skillful leadership they indeed work wonders."
From Gen. J. W. Sprague, Director of North Pacific Railroad:
PORTLAND, Oregon, February 23, 1871.
Prof. J. B. McGibeny, now of this city, was formerly two years Professor of Music in the State Normal School at Winona, Minnesota, (an Institution of high rank among the places of learning in the East). During that term it was my privilege to have sons under the tuition of himself and wife, who assisted him. Both are regarded as possessing rare qualities for teaching, and their efforts were highly appreciated by all who knew them; and by their high social and moral qualities they won and have retained the friendship of all who knew them. I cordially commend Professor and Mrs. McGibeny as eminently worthy of the confidence and patronage of all.

THE SIXTH LECTURE OF THE COURSE WILL be delivered by

REV. P. S. KNIGHT,

Of Salem,

On Tuesday Evening, March 7th,

At 7½ o'clock.

Subject—"A Corrected Estimate of the Eagle Bird."

"Well, thou Shadow-bird or Substance—coming from ethereal distance,
Where, perchance the Great Departed to the heights of wisdom soar,
Tell me of your curious mission, passing thus before my vision—
Dost thou come from fields Elysian? Art thou skilled in modern lore?
If, to me, thou e'er speak falsely, mayest thou wander evermore
On the 'dark Plutonian shore.'"

It is generally admitted that the American people are given to boasting and braggadocio. The 'lofty flight and the loud scream of our "Eagle Bird" can be witnessed at every public demonstration. Vanity, arrogance, intolerance and unblushing assumption float, as it were, in the very air. In the family, in the neighborhood, in the habits which business begets, in the political affairs of the country, we meet the same spirit of degrading boastfulness; and it is the curse of education in many parts of our land that it excites mere vanity, while it instils no lofty ideas of citizen duty, and no endeavors to attain a noble manhood.
The Rev. Mr. Knight is a man of large and varied reading, an earnest, energetic speaker, and a popular lecturer. He has chosen a subject, unique but practical, and his hearers can depend upon spending the evening both pleasantly and profitably.

THE VIEUXTEMPS BROTHERS

Have kindly volunteered to furnish music on the evening of each lecture.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 4, 1871.

CITY.

EAST PORTLAND BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—This Board held its regular meeting on Thursday evening. The following is a synopsis of all the business of importance transacted:

Remonstrances from parties representing three hundred feet front, against the proposed improvement of J street, were read and referred.

Remonstrances against the proposed improvement of L street, from parties representing 1,466 feet, referred.

The committee to whom was referred the ordinance to provide for supplying the city with and to authorize the laying down of water pipes in the streets and alleys, reported it back with a favorable recommendation, and the ordinance was passed.

The Treasurer, Barney Trainor, submitted a report for the quarter ending February 28, as follows:

RECEIPTS.

Licenses in November, 1870	$148 50
" December, 1870	60 00
" January, 1871	72 84
Fines in Recorder's Court	15 20
Licenses in February, 1871	227 00
Taxes to February 28, 1871	3,301 68
Total	$3,825 02

Disbursements, as per warrants ordered by the Council $1,790 15—leaving a balance in the Treasury of $2,034 87.

The report of the City Recorder for the same quarter was also received and placed on file. It agrees in financial particulars with the Treasurer's report.

ORDINATION.—The Sentinel says: "Pontifical High Mass will be celebrated by His Grace, Archbishop Blanchet, on to-morrow morning at half past ten o'clock, at which Mr. Heinrich, his secretary, will receive the order of Deaconship at the hands of the Most Rev. Celebrant, the necessary dispensation having been granted for that purpose, to-day being the proper day fixed by the Pontifical for general ordination. Holy Order is one of the seven Sacraments in the Catholic Church. In the Holy Order there are seven degrees, four lesser and three greater, the last and highest being the Priesthood. The four lesser are those of Porter, Lector, Exorcist and Acolyte. The greater are those of Sub-Deacon, Deacon and Priest. Time and space will not allow us to fully explain this subject, but may at some future time. We will content ourselves to only say something in relation to the one to be administered to-morrow, being the second one of the three greater. The office of Deacon is to assist the Bishop or Priest at High Mass and the administration of the Sacraments. At Mass he reads the Gospel, and gives the cup, when the Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist is given in both kinds. He may give Baptism and preach the Gospel by commission. To him the Bishop gives a Book of the Gospels, with power to read it in the Church of God.

A SEVERE ACCIDENT.—About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Johnny Middleton, a lad of about thirteen or fourteen years, employed at Mr. Jas. W. Cook's bag factory, met with a severe and painful accident. He had started to go down under the factory to clear away some floating trash, when, in descending, he missed his footing and fell some twelve feet or more, alighting upon a pile of boards, sticks and trash, by which one of his wrists was broken and his nose badly bruised, his upper lip cut through and one or two of his teeth knocked loose. Drs Davenport and Glisan were called who reduced the fracture of the wrist, and sewed up the cuts in his face and lip. Johnny is the eldest son of a widow lady, and is almost the stay of the family being quite an industrious, steady and industrious boy. His painful accident will excite the sympathy of every one who knows him.

PHILHARMONIC HALL.—We paid a visit yesterday to this hall, which the Vieuxtemps Brothers are fitting up for their first school concert next Saturday, March 11th. The ornamentation of the hall has not yet been completed, but enough has been done to show the general design and to impart a quite correct idea of what it will be when done. The walls all round are hung with evergreen festoons, banners, flags, mottoes, etc., arranged with exquisite taste. The chandeliers are decorated with evergreen and myrtle wreaths, bouquets and other ornaments done. The stage, at the back, presents three tiers of seats, in front of which is a series of arches, finely decorated with figures and emblems in colors and gilding. This part of the decorating is far from being finished, and a particular description cannot be given yet. The general effect of the ornamentation will be striking and equal anything of the kind ever attempted in this city, if we may judge by the appearance at this present stage.

WE YIELD.—The Herald's reporter objects to the statement published the other morning, relating to an shipment of a couple of Heathen Chinee, and finds the statement incorrect as to names of parties and other material respects. So far as we are concerned, we confess to a total lack of personal acquaintance with the parties, and the possibility that we may have done them injustice in calling them "outen their real names." We yield to the Herald reporter's superior familiarity with the whole matter, and as the parties are absent, we do the next best thing, and tender our apologies to their "next friend." Trusting that this will be entirely satisfactory, we subscribe ourself, "respectfully, etc."

SHIPPING ITEMS.—The schooner Adelaide in attempting to sail across the bows of the Tenax Propeller yesterday morning, lost her way and was drifted down afoul of the latter vessel, where she hung broadside across the current for several hours. No damage, however, of consequence was done to either vessel.

The Tenax Propeller left about three o'clock yesterday afternoon, in tow of the Okanagon, for Astoria, and thence for England.

FLIGHT OF HUMAN BIRDS.—The appearance of the Fenix Troup yesterday, as she came up from Kalama and Kalama, was calculated to revive the memory of the times when everybody went gold hunting up the Columbia. Her cabin deck and guards were black with human freight, and when the boat landed, the procession which followed was something not often witnessed at this city since the decline and fall of the gold excitement. It struck us that if all these people came from Kalama there must be "houses to let" down there.

THE BISHOP SCOTT GRAMMAR SCHOOL.—We learn that this school, under the charge of Prof. Laing, is making fine progress. The number of students has increased rapidly, and the permanency of the institution seems to be clearly established. We hear that Rev. Wm. L. Worthington, who has been a successful teacher in this State some time, has been engaged to assist Prof. Laing, and that he will enter upon his duties to-day.

PHILHARMONIC REUNION.—The Philharmonic Society held a meeting and reunion at their hall last evening. There was a very full attendance, and the indifference lately shown seems to have given way to a desire to recommence rehearsals under their old conductor, Mr. Wyatt, and it is not unlikely a public concert will be given some time this spring.

EXAMINATION POSTPONED.—The examination of the swindlers who fleeced George White, was postponed yesterday morning in the Police court, till this morning, in consequence of Judge Lewis being called as a witness in a criminal case on trial in the Circuit Court.

TRINITY CHURCH.—Bishop Morris will hold an ordination in Trinity Church, assisted by several of his Clergy, on Sunday morning, when the Rev. John Rosenberg, Deacon, will be admitted to the Priesthood. The services will begin at 11 o'clock A. M.

COUNTY EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTE.—Rev. G. H. Atkinson, School Superintendent of Multnomah county, has published a call for a meeting of teachers at the Central school-house in this city, Saturday, March 11th, for the purpose of organizing a County Institute.

JURY DISCHARGED.—The jury in the case of the State of Oregon vs Samuel Vowles, indictment for mayhem, after a protracted session, came into Court and reported it impossible to agree upon a verdict, whereupon they were discharged.

LUTHERAN SERVICES.—There will be services in the German language at the Lutheran church to-morrow morning. There will be at the same church a Sabbath School concert at half past seven o'clock in the evening.

ACQUITTED.—The jury in the case of the State of Oregon vs James L. Daly, indictment for larceny, returned a verdict of acquittal.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The following items are condensed or clipped from the Advocate:

Capt. John Smith, Agent at Warm Springs Reservation, reports a lively religious influence at work among the Indians.

The Methodists of the Rock creek circuit have recently dedicated a neat and comfortable new church building.

Rev. Mr. James, of the Clear creek circuit, has retired from the circuit, and Wm. Chapman has been appointed to take his place.

Two concerts at Eugene City, Feb. 22d and 23d, yielded in behalf of the Baptist church the sum of $145 50.

HALL ST. FESTIVAL.—The Festival for the benefit of the Hall street M. E. Sunday School, on Wednesday evening last, passed off with unusual satisfaction to those present, and with much credit to the faithful managers. The receipts amounted to $83. This amount, less necessary expenses, will be appropriated, as we learn, to the purchase of a suitable library for the Sabbath School.

M. E. ZION CHURCH.—This church on Third street, between B and C, has been without a regular pastor for the last six months. Rev. John Warren was appointed at the late Conference in California, but was taken sick, and hence is unable to come. Rev. W. H. Hillery, Presiding Elder, writes from San Francisco, Feb. 17, and says: "I have received a letter from Bishop Moore stating that an experienced Elder would be out from the East during April or early May. This new brother is indeed an excellent man."

MISSIONARY CONCERT.—The second Missionary Concert of the Taylor street M. E. Sabbath School for this year will be given on next Sabbath (to-morrow) at 2 P. M., when the following exercises will take place: Singing by the School; Prayer; Singing by the School; Introductory Address; Solo; Reading; Quartette; Recitation; "The Seed and the Sower;" Solo; Dialogue, "A Voice from the Zenanas," by a class of eight young ladies; Singing, "Say Brothers," by the School; Address; Duet and Chorus, "Shall we Meet?"

SABBATH SCHOOL EXHIBITION.—The Concert and Exhibition at the Taylor street Sabbath School will take place in the lecture room of the church on Wednesday evening next, commencing promptly at half past seven o'clock. The following is the programme of exercises: Address of Welcome, Oscar Heintz; Singing, "Battle Song," by a class; Charade, infant class; Solo; Colloquy, "The Gleaners," by a class of eight girls; Duet and Chorus, "Down where the Blue bells Grow;" Recitation, "Choice of Trades," class of boys; Male Quartette, "Not a bit of it;" Recitation, "God will surely ask;" Solo, "Will you come to meet me?" Colloquy, A, B, C class; Male Quartette, "Wanderer's Return;" Recitation; Duet, "Under the Beautiful Stars;" Recitation, Prince of Peace;" Song and Chorus, "When he left me;" Closing Address by the Superintendent; Doxology.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE COGHILL COOPER BENEFIT.—Oro Fino was pretty well filled last night on the occasion of the benefit to Coghill and Cooper, of the Nickerson Troupe. There was quite an array of outside talent beside the regular troupe, and the performances were extra good, eliciting unusually hearty applause. There will be a matinee at 2 o'clock and a farewell performance by the troupe this evening.

REAPPEARANCE OF MRS. BATES.—It will be seen by the theatrical advertisement this morning that Mrs. F. M. Bates will reappear on the Oro Fino stage, next Monday evening. We feel sure the public will give her a hearty welcome, as they have evidently had enough, for the present, of burnt cork. The class of entertainments given by the legitimate dramatic company, just prior to the engagement of Miss Leo Hudson, were quite well suited to the better sort of popular taste, and they were well patronized, too. Since Mrs. Bates' last appearance, we have very often heard this matter spoken of and the wish expressed that the company would resume the stage, with similar entertainments.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Pixley Sisters, it is stated, will soon arrive here from Walla Walla.

Willamette Engine Co. No. 1 is to have a new flagstaff one hundred feet high.

A regular meeting of Baker Post No. 1, will be held this evening, at the hall, corner of Madison and First.

The Irish societies of this city are, generally, making preparations for joining in the celebration of St. Patrick's Day—March 17.

There are now one hundred and forty-four patients in the Insane Asylum, of whom forty-one are females.

ATWOOD'S COMMON SENSE GANG PLOW.—We have been shown an illustration of a new gang plow of Illinois invention and patent bearing the above name. It is claimed for it that it is of lighter draft than any other gang plow; that it is lower priced, does better work, is more simple in adjustments, and more durable. The illustration would indicate all these things. Mr. Samuel Handsaker, of Canyonville, is agent for Oregon. He informs us that one of the plows is now on the way out overland from Illinois, and will arrive at Portland during the present month. Any person wishing to obtain the right to manufacture for the State will then be able to see Mr. Handsaker here, and to examine and test his plow; or he can be addressed till the 15th inst. either at Portland or Salem.

REGULAR TERM.—The next regular term of the United States District Court, will begin next Monday. Marshal Young has been up country during the week, summoning witnesses.

THE COURTS.

FRIDAY, March 3, 1871.

FOURTH CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—State of Oregon vs Meehan and Sweeney; Sweeney sentenced to four months in the county jail.

John Creighton was allowed $15 for defending.

State of Oregon vs D. Curtis and William Middleton; indicted for larceny. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation to the mercy of the Court.

State of Oregon vs Dougherty, Nevil and Fleming; indictment for setting up a lottery; demurrer to indictment argued and overruled; defendants Dougherty and Nevil each arraigned and plea of not guilty entered; jury impanneled in the case of Nevil, trial in progress.

The Court adjourned till 10 A. M., to-morrow.

REMITTENT FEVERS—THE WAY TO ESCAPE THEM.—A dose of PLANTATION BITTERS, taken night and morning, will enable the system to repel the deleterious influence of these fruitful sources of epidemic disease. It is in evidence that in many instances where the greater portion of the population of an entire settlement have been prostrated by bilious remittent fevers, the few who have had sufficient forecast to take the Bitters as a preventive, have escaped the scourge. As a remedy after an attack has actually commenced, this celebrated tonic and anti-bilious elixir is invariably efficacious. In such cases, if taken when the fever is off, it will soon control the paroxysms, and when the patient is convalescent, it will restore the appetite and recruit the strength more rapidly than any other stomachic and invigorant in use.

CAUTION!—In our changeable climate, Coughs, Colds, and Lung diseases will always prevail. Consumption will claim its victims. These diseases, if taken in time, can be arrested and cured. The remedy is DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

A Chapter of Facts.

Space is valuable in a newspaper, and it is therefore proposed in this advertisement to condense a variety of facts, important to the public, into a small compass. These facts refer to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—what that celebrated medicine is, and what it will do. In the first place, then, the article is a stimulant, tonic and alterative, consisting of a combination of an absolutely pure spirituous agent with the most valuable medicinal vegetable substances that Botanic research has placed at the disposal of the chemist and the physician. These ingredients are compounded with great care, and in such proportions as to produce a preparation which invigorates without exciting the general system, and tones, regulates and controls the stomach, the bowels, the liver and the minor secretive organs.

What this great restorative will do must be gathered from what it has done. The case of dyspepsia, or any other form of indigestion, in which it has been persistently administered without effecting a radical cure, is yet to be heard from, and the same may be said of billious disorders, intermittent fever, nervous affections, general debility, constipation, sick headache, mental disabilities to which the feeble are so subject. It purifies all the fluids of the body, including the blood, and the gentle stimulus which it imparts to the nervous system is not succeeded by the slightest reaction. This is a chapter of facts which readers, for their own sakes, should mark and remember.

The Political Situation at Washington.

The Hon. Ellis H. Roberts, Representative in Congress elect, writes an interesting account of political affairs at Washington, to his paper, the Utica Herald, from which we make the following extracts:

GEN. GRANT'S POPULARITY.

"One thing is the strength of Gen. Grant with the body of earnest, thoughtful Republicans. It will not be denied that he has erred in some of his appointments, and has only gradually appreciated the supreme importance of the continuance of Republican sway in the National Government. But he is stronger with the party here to-day than at any time since his accession. The sympathy between him and the representative men in the several States is closer, and he seeks more and more of their counsel. Confidence in the purity of his purposes, in the wisdom of his general policy, in the strength which he possesses with the people, is general and unwavering. This is the undoubted fact, in spite of the two or three instances of Senatorial criticism, springing out of removals and appointments. For the substitution of Gen. Schenck for Mr. Motley at the British court, commands the approval of both parties, with rare exceptions; and the sharpness of conflicts about patronage in Missouri and New York will only develop the desire of the President to wield honestly and fairly the power of his position.

SUCCESS OF THE ADMINISTRATION.

"And it is assuredly clear that the success of General Grant's administration is essential to the future triumph of the Republican party. Friendly counsel, generous criticism, the administration is demanded to insure its success, and magnanimous support of the administration is the condition of continued domination of Republican principles, or the ... of a scandalous and disastrous re... case is parallel to the middle of ... first term. Good men were im... action of that single-hearted ... ticism was keen and often ma... events made him the represen... national conscience, the providen... instrument of the national will. Democracy demanded ... means or foul. But the popular ... extension, for the control of ... of the islands which are ... for the sway of the west... concentrates itself here; and ... stirring questions in ... distant future."

The First Telegraph Message.

Professor Morse having returned to his native land from Europe, proceeded immediately to Washington where he renewed his ... to procure the passage of the bill ... appropriation of thirty thousand ... towards the close of the session of ... of Representative took it up ... a large majority, and it only ... the action of the Senate. Its progress through the House, as might be expected, was watched with the most anxiety by Professor Morse. There were only two days ... of the session, and it was ... examination of the calendar, that ... than ... bills had precedence of it. Professor Morse had nearly reached the bottom of his purse. His hard earned savings were almost spent, and although he had struggled on with undying hope for many years, it is hardly to be wondered at that he felt disheartened now. On the last night of the session he remained till nine o'clock, and then left without the slightest hope that the bill would be passed. He returned to his hotel, counted his money, and found that, after paying his expenses to New York, he would ... cents left. That night he went to bed ... hopes for the future; ... his difficulties and trials, that ... forsook him. The next morning as he ... breakfast, one of the waiters in... that a young lady was in the parlor waiting to see him. He went in immediately, and found that the young lady was Miss Ellsworth, daughter of the Commissioner of Patents, who had been his most steadfast friend while in Washington.

"I am come," said she, "to congratulate you."

"For what?" said Professor Morse.

"On the passage of your bill," she replied.

"Oh, no; you must be mistaken," said he, "I remained in the Senate till a late hour last night, and there was no prospect of its being reached."

"Am I the first, then," she exclaimed joyfully, "to tell you?"

"Yes; if it is really so."

"Well," she continued, "father remained till the adjournment, and heard it passed; and I asked him if I might run over and tell you."

"Annie," said the Professor, his emotions almost choking his utterance, the first message that is sent from Washington to Baltimore shall be sent from you."

"Well," she replied, "I will keep you to your word."

While the line was in progress of completion, Professor Morse was in New York, and upon receiving intelligence that it was in working order, he wrote to those in charge, telling them not to transmit any message over it till his arrival. He then set out immediately for Washington, and on reaching that city, wrote a note to Miss Ellsworth, informing her that he was now ready to fulfill his promise, and asked her what message he should send. To this he received the following reply:

"WHAT HATH GOD WROUGHT?"

Words that ought to be written in characters of living light. The message was twice repeated, and each time with the greatest success. As soon as the result of the experiment was made known, Gov. Seymour, of Connecticut, afterward United States Minister at St. Petersburg, called upon Professor Morse and claimed the first message for his State, on the ground that Miss Ellsworth was a native of Hartford. We need scarcely add that the claim was admitted; and now engraved in letters of gold, it is displayed conspicuously in the archives of the Historical Society of Hartford.

American Female Beauty.

HANDSOME, HOPEFUL AND HEALTHY.

A correspondent of the New York Standard has a good word to say for the healthy development of the physical form of American women. The writer says: The growth of female beauty—everybody remarks it—is prodigious of late years, and annually progressive. This statement is to be taken literally, as to quality, numbers and quantity—all three. I suppose that the vast multiplication of cheerful and luxuriant homes; of the warming, stimulating and softening comforts of sensuous existence, of the public amusements and social festivities which draw out the feminine susceptibilities into the liveliest play, the growth of parental intelligence and refinement of manners, and the very early application of the hot-bed influence of flirtation, all combine to develop girls into "beauties" at a rate never before known in human history.

But the full, rich and voluptuous style of beauty now rising into view on so large a scale, suggests another cause, which those who are old enough to compare the girl of thirty years ago with the girls of to-day, will promptly recognize. Thirty years ago, and much less, the style was just the reverse of what it is now. Delicacy was supposed to be the standard charm. All the girls dieted and trained like champions of the ring to keep down adipose tissue, spare flesh and full circulation. A high complex, plump limb, a waist permitting the supposition of anything inside constituted "grossness," against which every maid and mamma felt it their duty incessantly to watch, and fast, and pray, and mortify the flesh. They used to feed like birds. Well do I remember it, and deeply did I pity them! The result was a wonderful amount of delicacy, and, I believe, what with spare nourishment, tight waists, thin slippers, scant flannel and sole leather, that millions of consumptions, premature deaths and delicate constitutions in the present day, are traceable to this old fashion of delicate female beauty. It is unnecessary to say that as for beauty itself, delicate or other, this meagre training must have vastly impaired it, giving sallowness, hollowness and dimness of eye to many a face that might have been nourished into radiant loveliness.

Within a few years we have bravely changed all this. The present generation has made no progress more worthy of congratulation and of gratitude from posterity than in this matter of physical culture. For women it has introduced high boots, warm flannels, thick soles, easy waists, thick winter dress goods and cloakings, skating, and other outdoor exercises, and plenty to eat. High nourishment betrays itself whenever custom permits, notably in glowing eyes, cheeks and lips, ravishing busts, and with girls below puberty in a wonderful multiplication of richly rounded limbs on the street. On our western sea-board there is no danger of running into coarse and stupid grossness. We get a perfect sensuous beauty, of which, I predict, the American will soon be the most famous type in history of mankind. There is a good deal of painting, but there is no need of it.

The contrast between the two sexes in their normal development of flesh, under like conditions of nourishment at least, is very striking. The reason is obvious to reflection, but so few think of it that it may be worth mentioning. The grand physiological distinction of the female sex is its double power of nutrition. A properly endowed woman is furnished for nourishing two instead of one. Consequently, while she has but herself to nourish, she must naturally enjoy a far richer physical development at all points than is natural to the other sex. The harmony of providential arrangements is remarkably displayed in this result. The appropriate charms of the softer sex are brought out in luxuriant perfection, while a reserve of nourishment is stored up which becomes of the greatest importance eventually to the nursing mother, and much more to the constitution and sustenance to her offspring during both gestion and infancy. Those swelling and graceful proportions are good to look at—so far as it is right; but they are good for something else. Think of that and let them pass on.

THE

UNK WEED REMEDY!

OR

OREGON

RHEUMATIC CURE.

HISTORY

THIS REMEDY IS COMPOSED OF THE ACTIVE principle of the Unk Weed, Eng.—Thaspium, Cordatum, Origanlm, Lat.—Indigenous to Oregon—Grows most abundantly and perfectly in Washington county.

PROPERTIES, &c.:

It contains an active volatile principle extracted by Ether, and a bitter Tonic principle.

Medical Properties and Uses:

It is the most Sure and Speedy Cure for Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout and Rheumatic Pains of all kinds that has ever been introduced in the Materia Medica. The Unk Weed Remedy as prepared by us, in consequence of the existing bitter principle, poss... the necessary virtue of being a

POWERFUL TONIC!

Promoting the Appetite and Invigorating the whole Digestive Apparatus, thus building and strengthening the system, while at the same time the volatile principle, being absorbed in the blood, acts specifically on the Rheumatic Poison, removing it from the circulation and system.

There are few remedies known to the Medical profession, which will remove the Rheumatic poison from the blood, but whose action is so powerful in depressing the system of the already enfeebled Rheumatic patient, that their use has to be abandoned before specific effects are obtainable. Hence the want of succ... in treating this prevalent, and in consequence, heretofore incurable disease. Unlike these Medicines, already known, the

"Unk Weed Remedy"

Though producing as powerful and as active effects on the blood and system in removing the Rheumatic Poison, also possesses a strong Tonic and recuperating element, which admits of its continued use even in the most delicate and debilitated. Thus we have the combination for the first time of those two necessary elements in the one remedy, which accounts for its superior and never failing curative effects in

LAND DEPARTMENT
OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd-numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect. I. R. MOORES,
